ADMINISTRATION

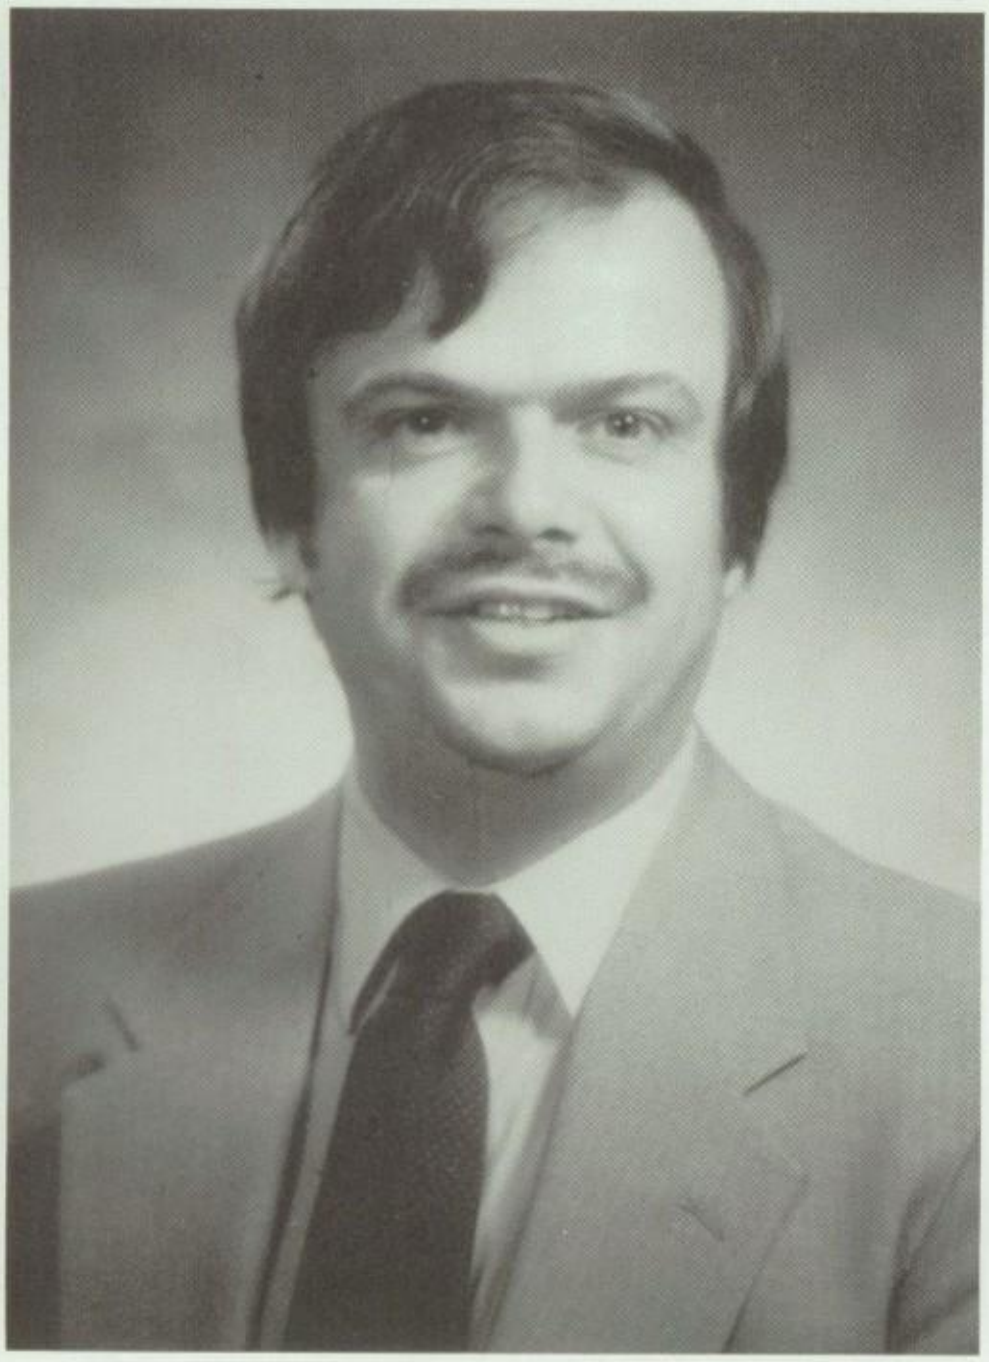

SUPERINTENDENT

TO THE CLASS OF 1986

The graduation ceremony and the diploma that you receive from it tells the world that you are ready to go ahead to the next step in your lives. You have passed through an important part of the learning process. If it has been completely successful, the main thing it has taught you is how much more there is to learn. Brian Taylor, an American writer in the 19th century, states that we should: "Learn to live and live to learn."

This important transition in your life hopefully will be used by you as a stepping stone for life long learning, where you may make worthwhile contributions to your community and the people around you.

Graduation is a time of joy and celebration. You and your families are to be proud of this accomplishment and your ability to now step out and make your future world better for others that come after you. You have climbed up part of the mountain of learning, it was easier for some of you than others, but for all of you it is an accomplishment which your parents and friends applaud. We congratulate you, you have completed an important phase of your education. Use it well.

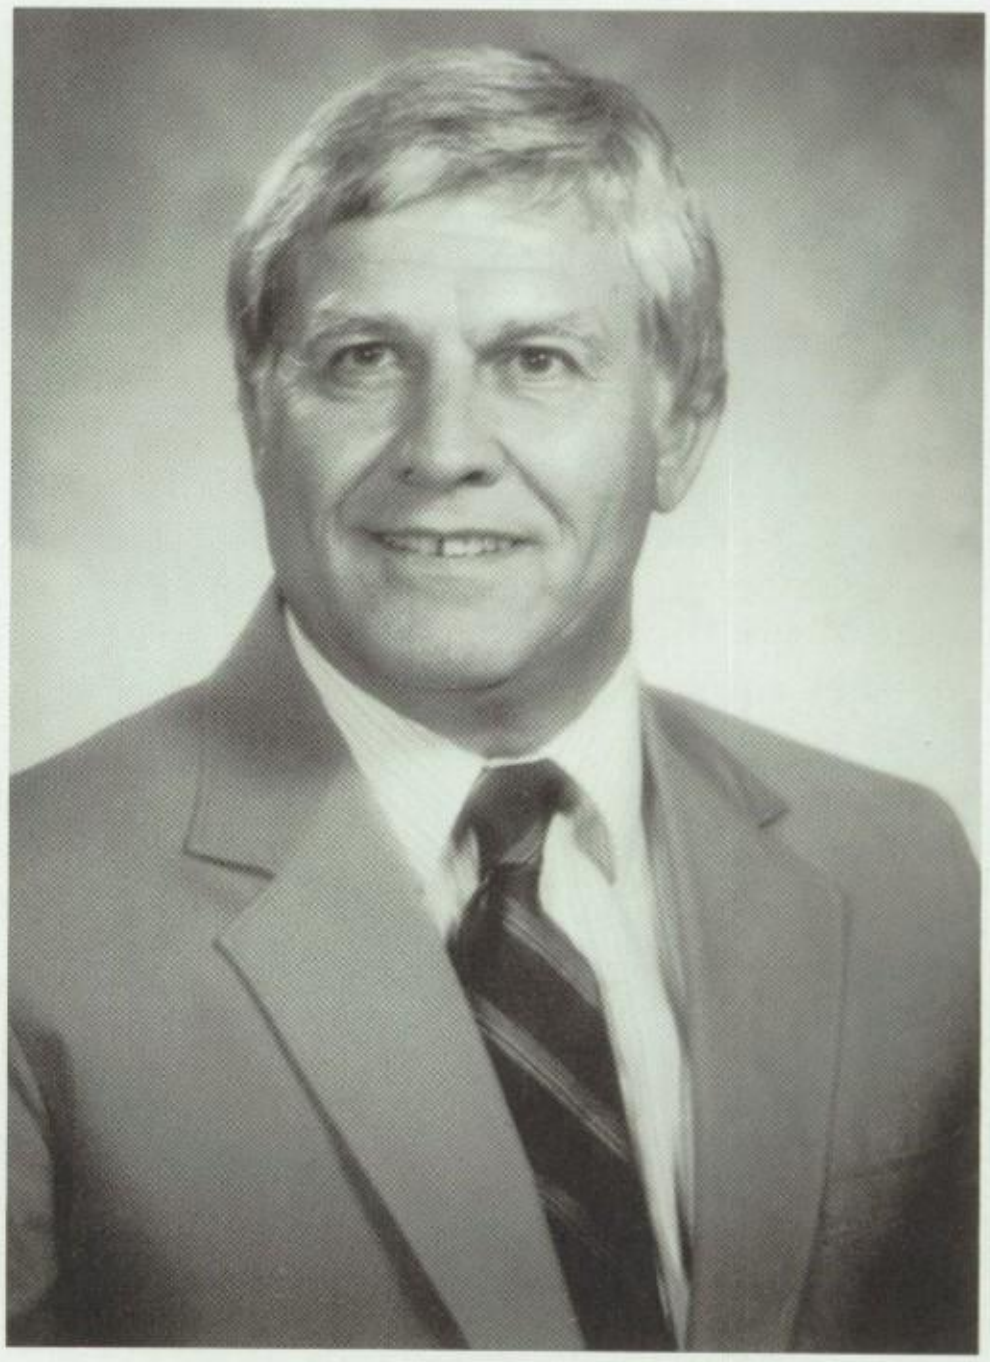

Ellery W. Bouchard
Superintendent of Schools

PRINCIPAL

To The Graduating Class of 1986

CONGRATULATIONS — finally you are to graduate from high school, "Your Time Has Come!"

I hope your years at Van Buren District Secondary School were enjoyable, but more important succeeded in helping develop a new you, a person ready to face what the future will present.

Someone once said "the moment we are born we start to die" so remember to make your time in the world meaningful. Do not waste your God given talents. Strive to make the space in your world a warm and friendly place to be. May you first recognize and then reach for the many fine things that life has to offer.

Our thoughts go with you.

. . . chalk dust replaces dandruff

Ms. Rose Bouchard
Business Education
. . . your students find it hard to believe that you listen to rock music.

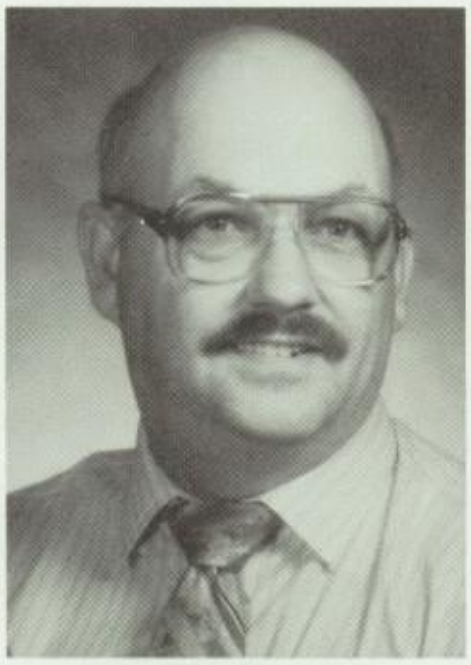

Mr. Ronald Carter
History
. . . you correct papers on a trip.

Ms. Carla Charette
Special Education
. . . when you don't have any children but get called "Mom" a half a dozen times a week.

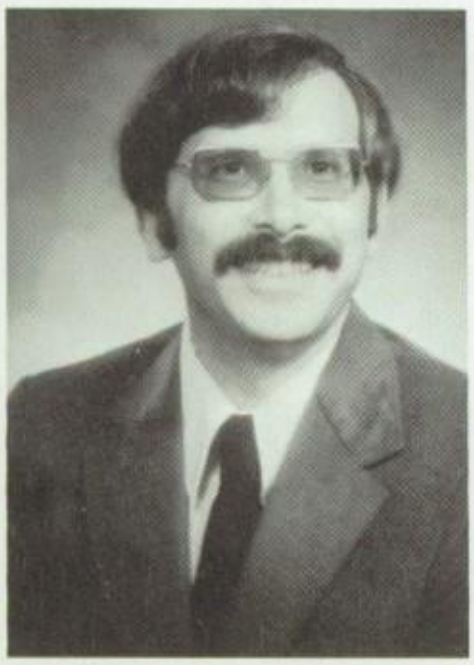

Sr. Eva Chouinard
French
. . . my alarm clock rings at 5:30 a.m.

Mr. Clayton Cyr
Division Coordinator — Special Education
. . . students come to see you for assistance or simply to talk.

Ms. Sheila Cyr
Special Education
. . . salary doesn't count and students start calling you "Mom!"

Mr. Earl Coombs
Division Coordinator — Math — Science
. . . you realize that who you teach is more important than what you teach.

Ms. Jeannine Cyr
French; Spanish
. . . I become aware that hope sees "what is not but yet will be."

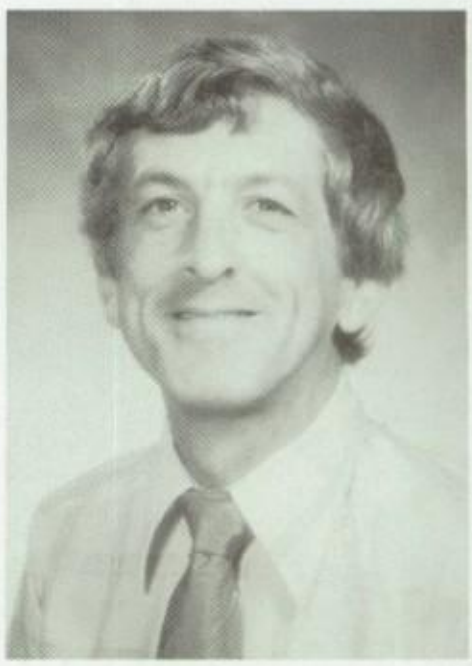

Ms. Jackie Derosier

. . . you hear someone who's not a teacher say, "You're on vacation again!"

Sr. Sharon Leavitt
Reading Lab
. . . you truly love and respect all students and succeed in sharing a love of learning!

Mr. Brian Lewia
Industrial Arts
. . . you teach because its what you choose to do not a "job" you have to do!!

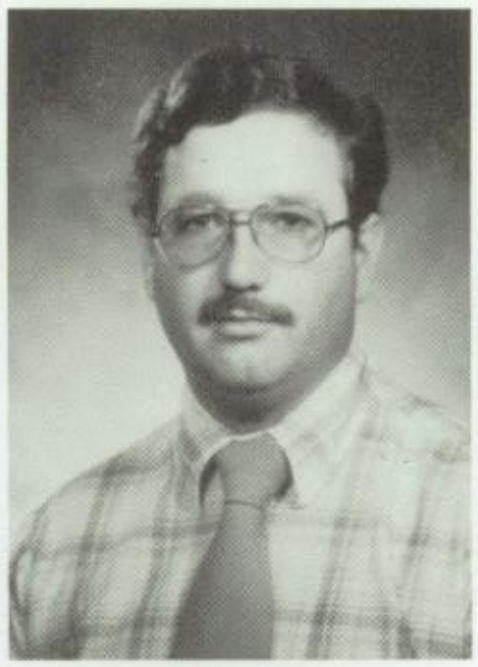

Mr. John Madore
Division Coordinator — History
History
. . . you go to bed at night with children other than your own on your mind!

You Know You Are A Teacher When . . .

Mrs. Antoinette Martin
Language Arts
. . . my students are motivated to read more library books.

Mr. David A. Morrow
Industrial Arts
. . . the learner outcomes reflect attitudes and abilities displayed throughout the courses I teach.

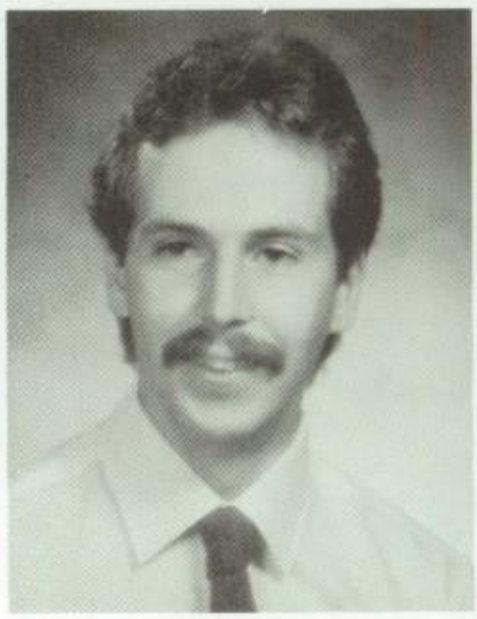

Mrs. Corinne Parent
Teacher Aide
. . . a student tells you, "if you people weren't around, life would be so simple."

Ms. Monica Martin
Science; Physical Education
. . . you have to give up your Friday night to chaperone a dance.

Mr. Patrick Parent
Science
. . . you pick up your paycheck.

Mrs. Noella Michaud
Maine Migrant Teacher
. . . a student comes up to me and says, "Miss I need your help."

Mrs. Nancy Ouellette
Home Economics
. . . everyone in class is so busy, they forget to look at the clock.

Mr. Richard Parent
History
. . . when some people in the community tell you how great a job you have and how little work you do.

Mrs. Hub Pelletier
Special Education

Sr. Rose Rossignol
Math
. . . I help students grow intellectually, morally, emotionally and psychologically.

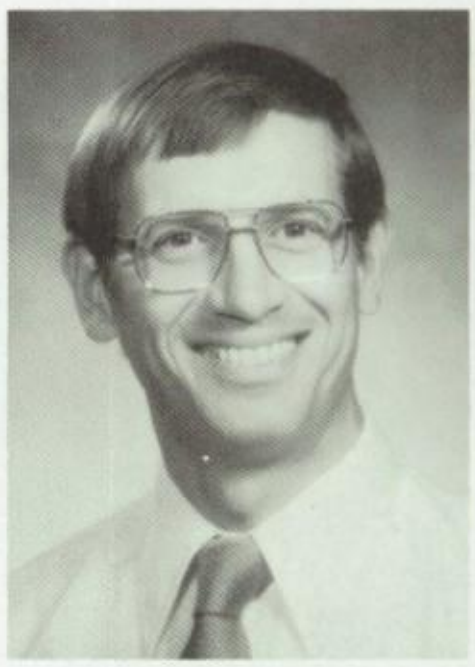

Mrs. Theresa Sebastian
Reading Lab

Dr. Lela Phillips
English
. . . you receive a menu in a restaurant and start correcting it.

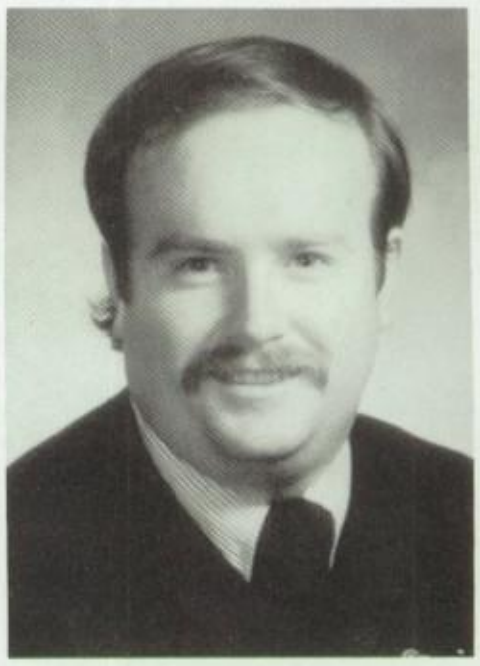

Mr. Robert Sprague
Science; Math
. . . your wife has to work to pay the bills.

Mrs. Beatrice Pirie
Division Coordinator — Humanities
English
. . . you have to answer the question — if the sun rises in the East and sets in the West — why do we need North and South?

Mrs. Leona Roy
Library Aide

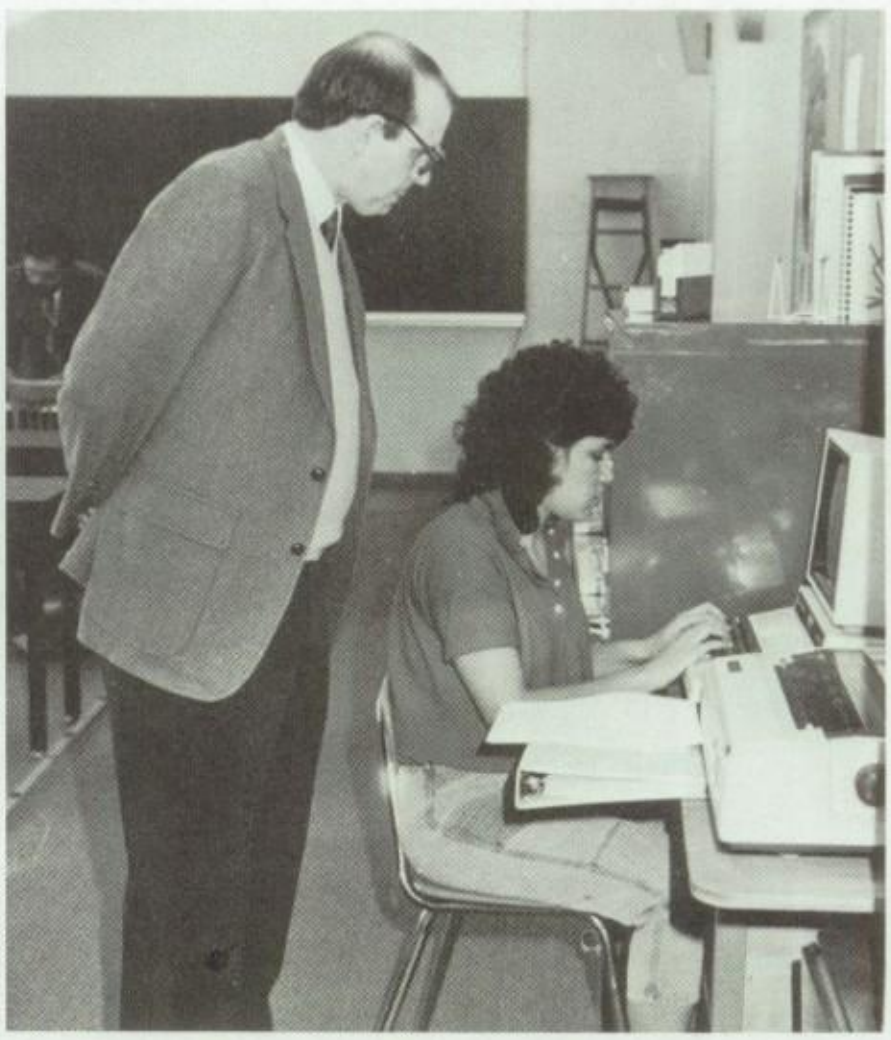

Mr. Roderick Wright

BOY'S SOCCER CANDIDS

Come on, I'll take on all of you at once.

Troy, this is not the time to show us what you learned in ballet class.

Hey, who put glue on the field!

The few, the proud, the Crusaders.

We all know who she's thinking of.

Hey coach, is this a soccer ball?

Let's do the twist.

I may be small, but I'm mean.

GIRL'S SOCCER CANDIDS

Up, up, and away.

Sisterly love.

Honest Sue, the ball doesn't hurt your foot when you kick it.

One small step for man, one giant step for the Crusaderettes.

Now I'm mad!

Synchronized soccer.

Are you sure this is how everyone dances at your school? asks Amy.

Come on ball, come to mama.

That goal really looks far.

Shorts too small Tammy?

Maybe next time, I'll dunk it.

I don't know what I'm doing here.

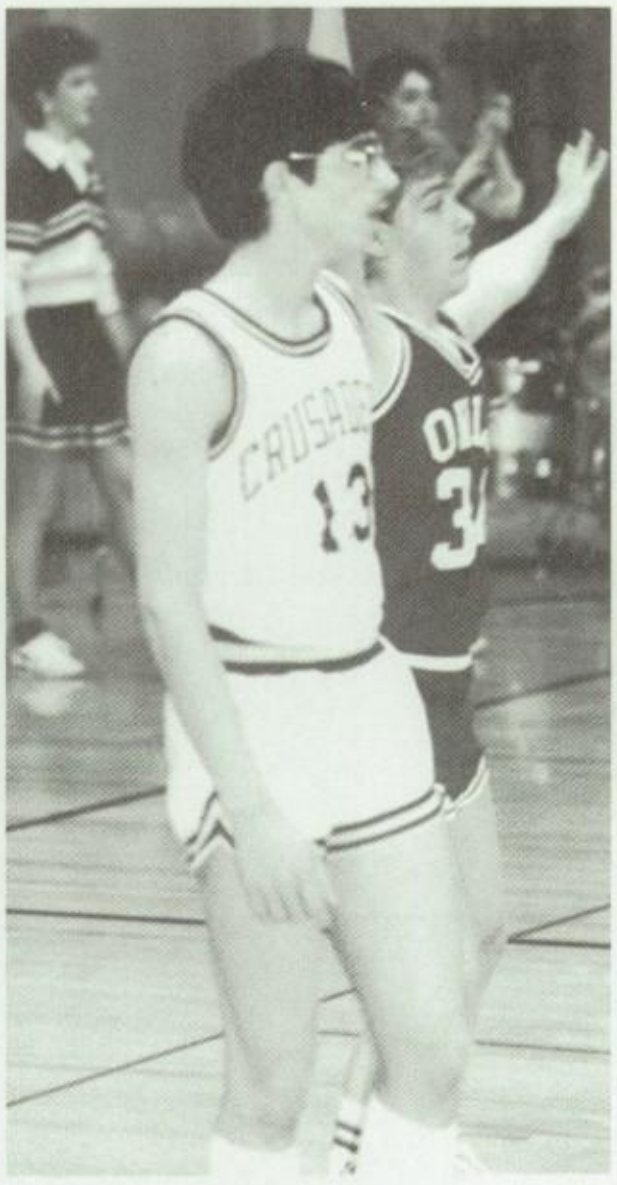

The ball is stuck to my hands.

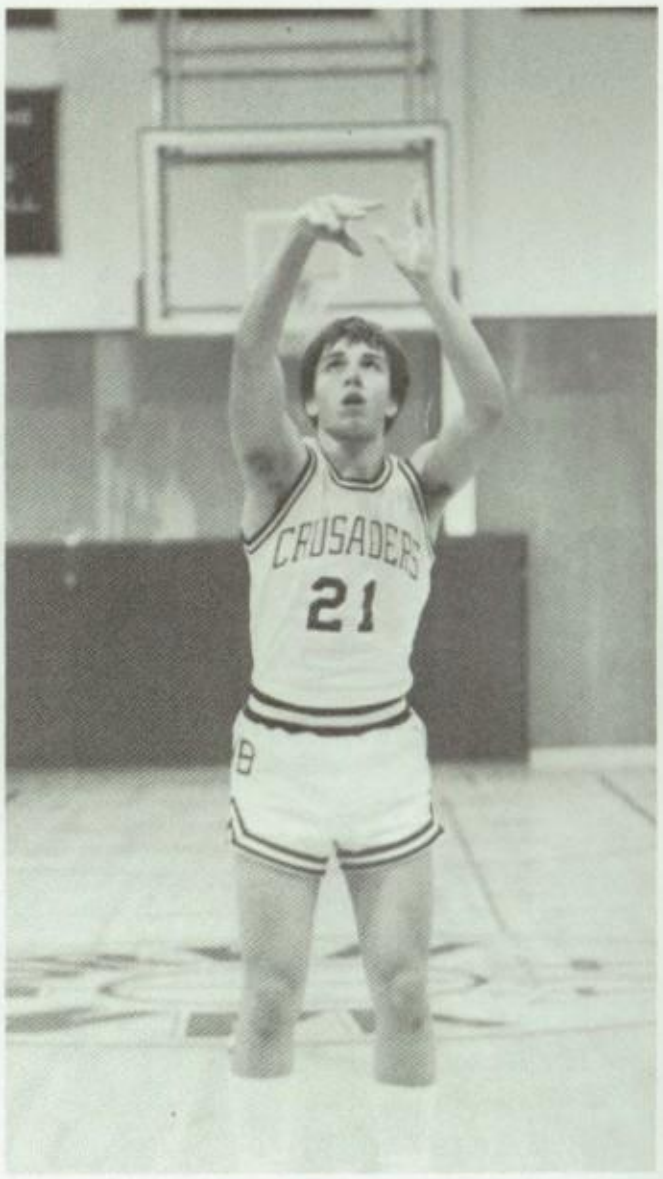

A few encouraging words from the Coach.

Jump high to the sky . . .

Hey, doesn't this guy know that the war is over!

Poof! One more for the stats!

Tom, your shoe is untied!

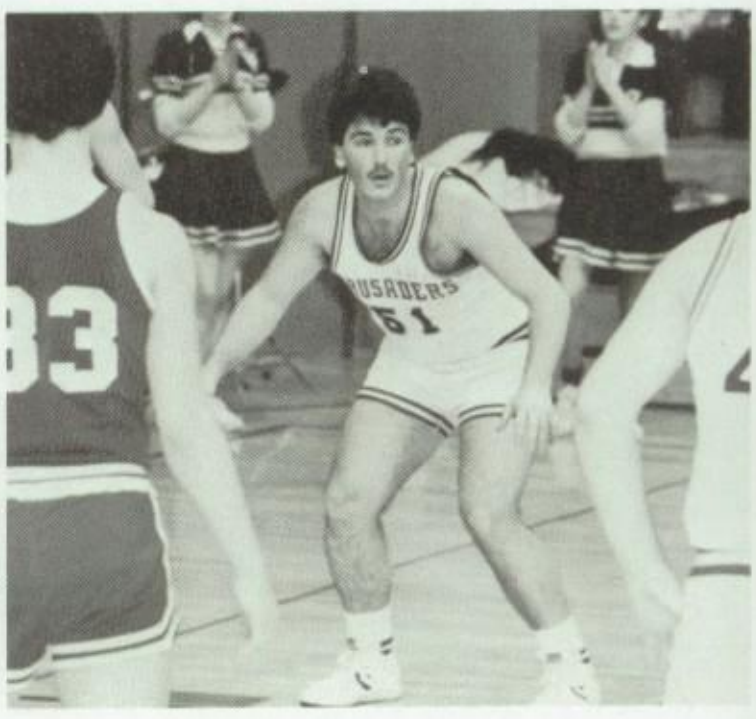

It's hard work, but somebody's got to do it!

I don't believe I fouled the ref.

I hope Mom and Dad are watching.

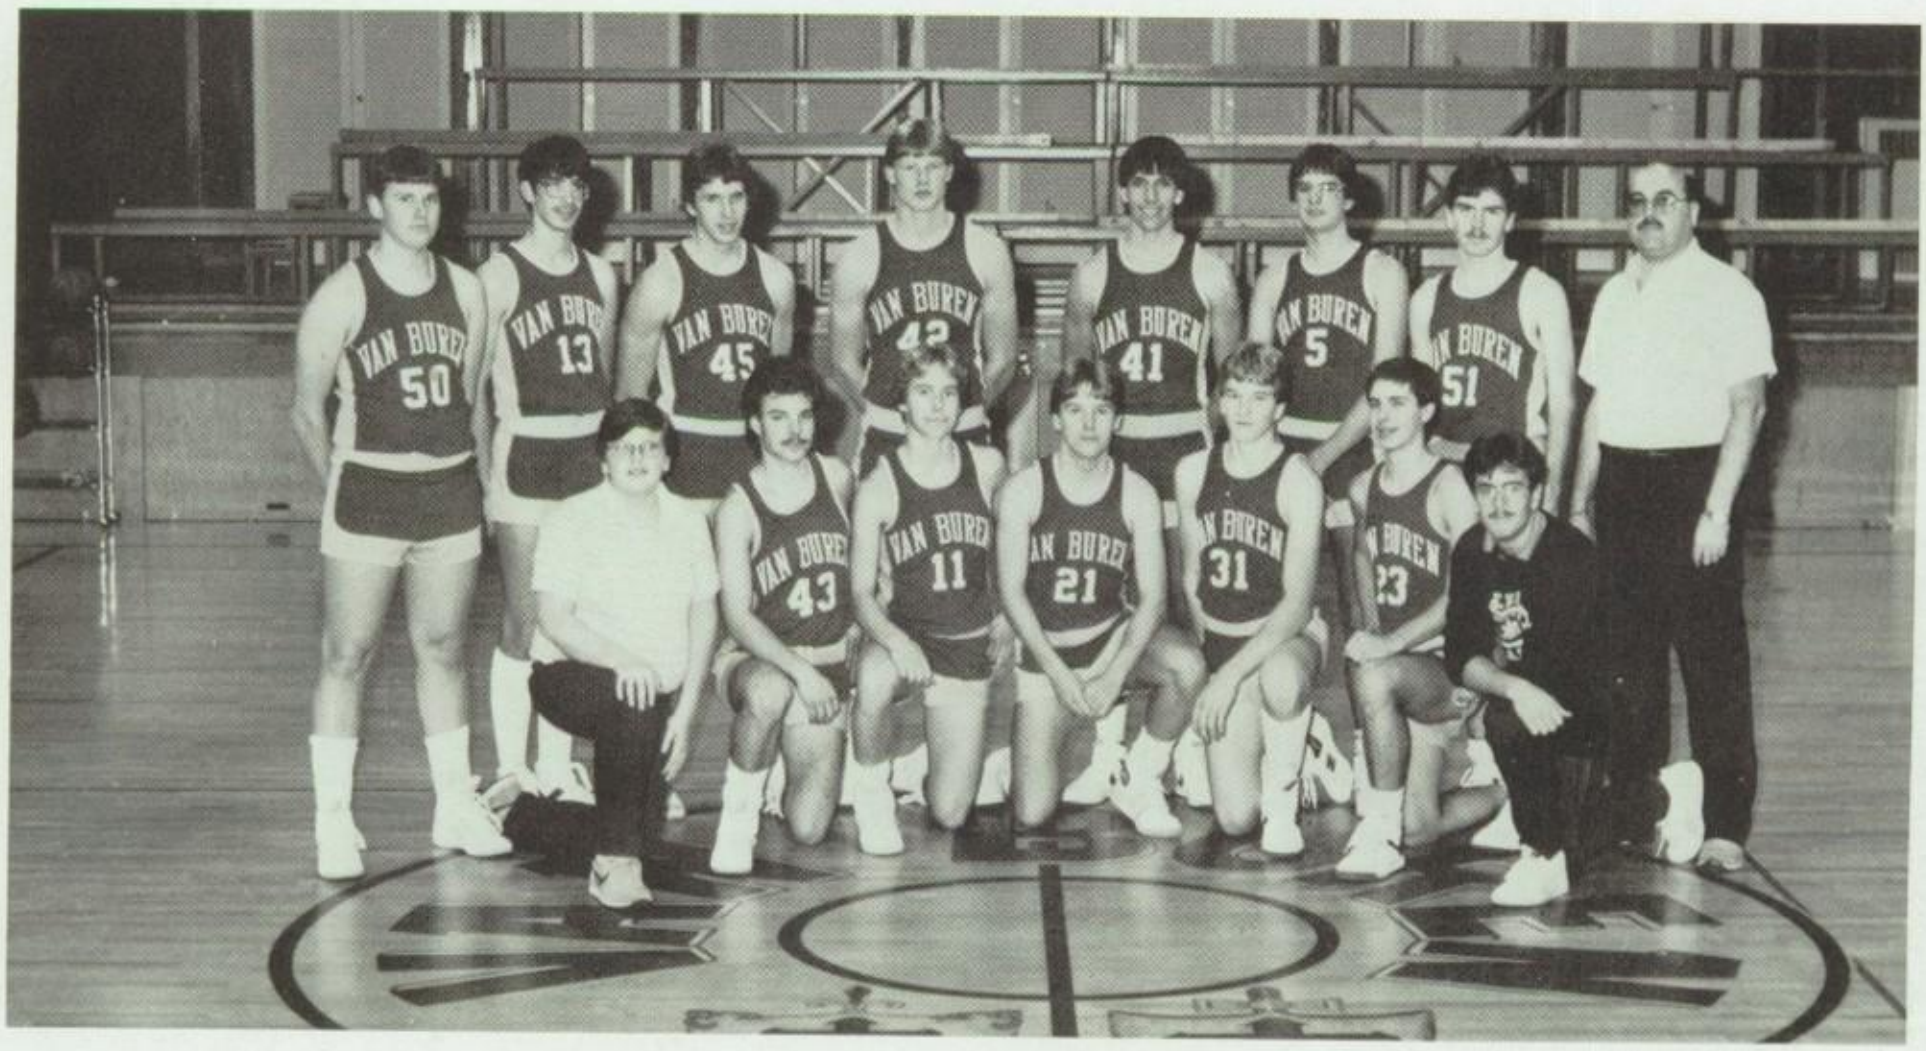

Ready, Set . . . Attack!!

SCHOOL LIFE

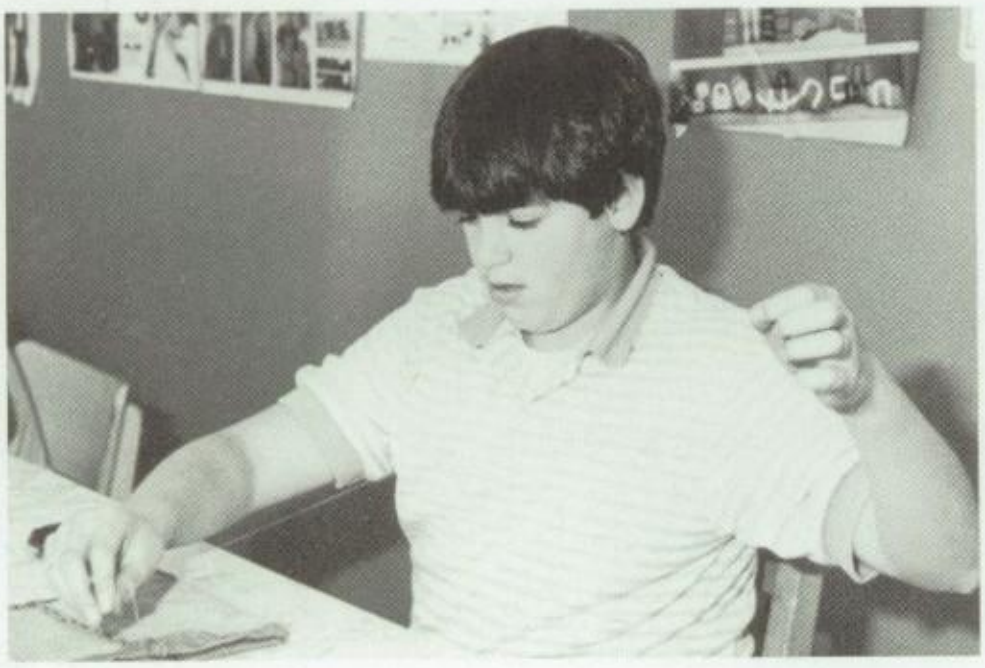

This guy is giving me a headache.

The Pepsodent smile.

Plans for the future . . . to be the first white Harlem Globetrotter.

A stitch in time saves nine

I've got a secret —

And the Mama Bear said to the Papa Bear . . .

So Amy, are we on for Friday night?

What a day!!!

I can't believe Mr. Jenkins wore those green pants on Thursday again.

How is this for a smile

Hey you guys, I think I'm going to be a chef

Let me see that Centerfold.

The unemployment line

Have you ever known Luke to be camera shy!

Get out of my face!!

So Mark what are you up to now!

Come on Burt tell me what you said.

Hey, did you know Diet Coke won the taste test over Mountain Dew.

The things that crawl out of the woodwork.

Another lonely day.

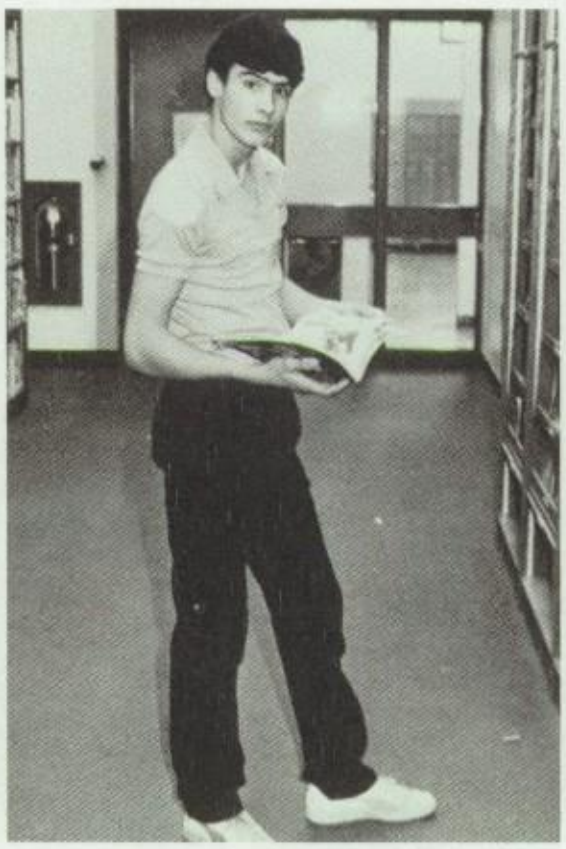

Mr. McDonald's going to kill me! I just broke the printing ball off his typewriter!!

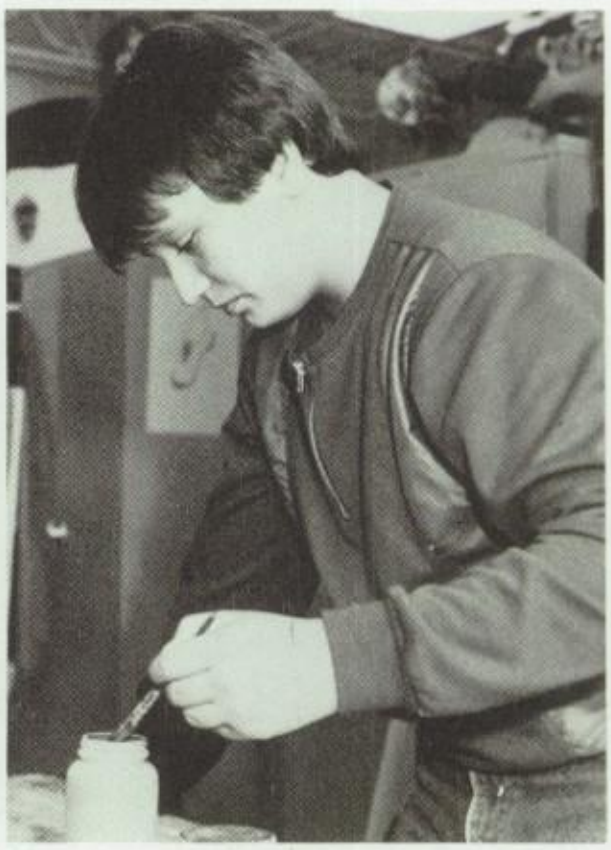

My men wear English Leather, or nothing at all.

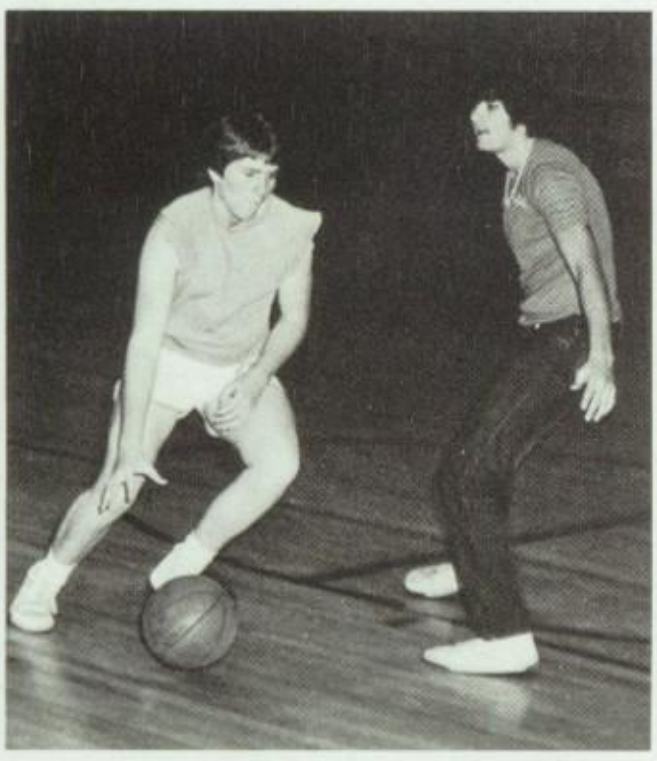

I think something on my Italian sandwich is moving!!

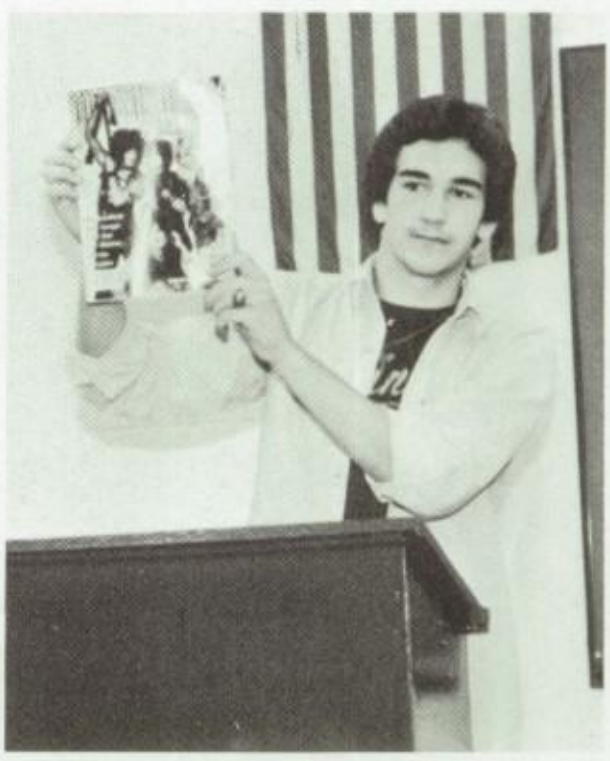

My Don Johnson look!!

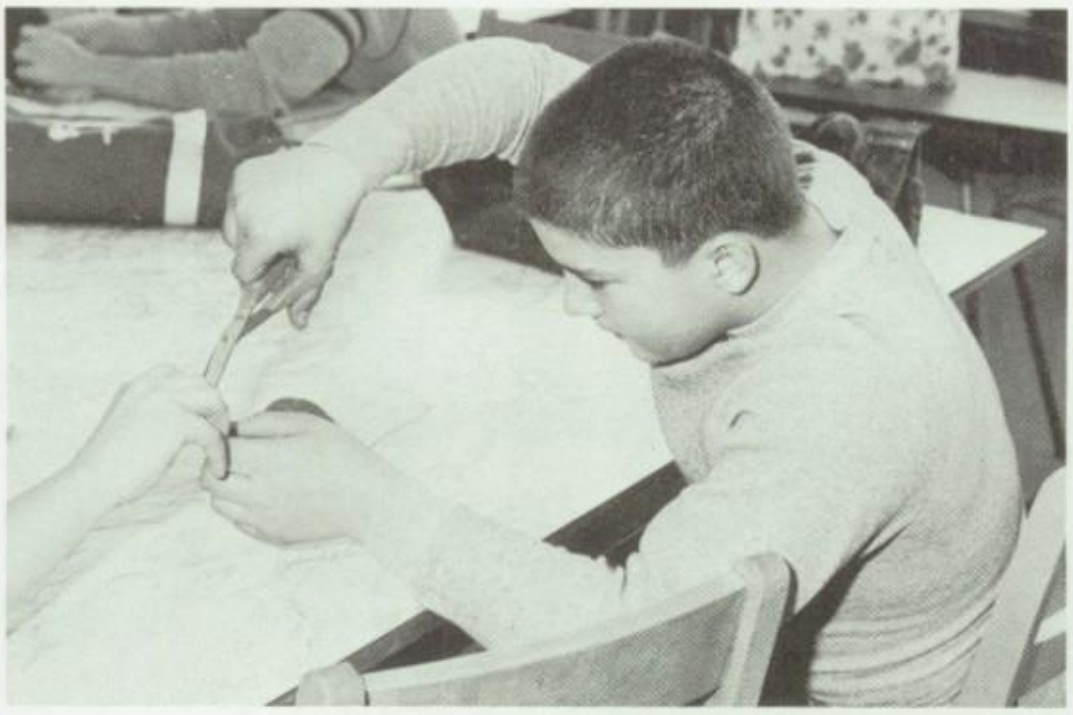

What is it???!

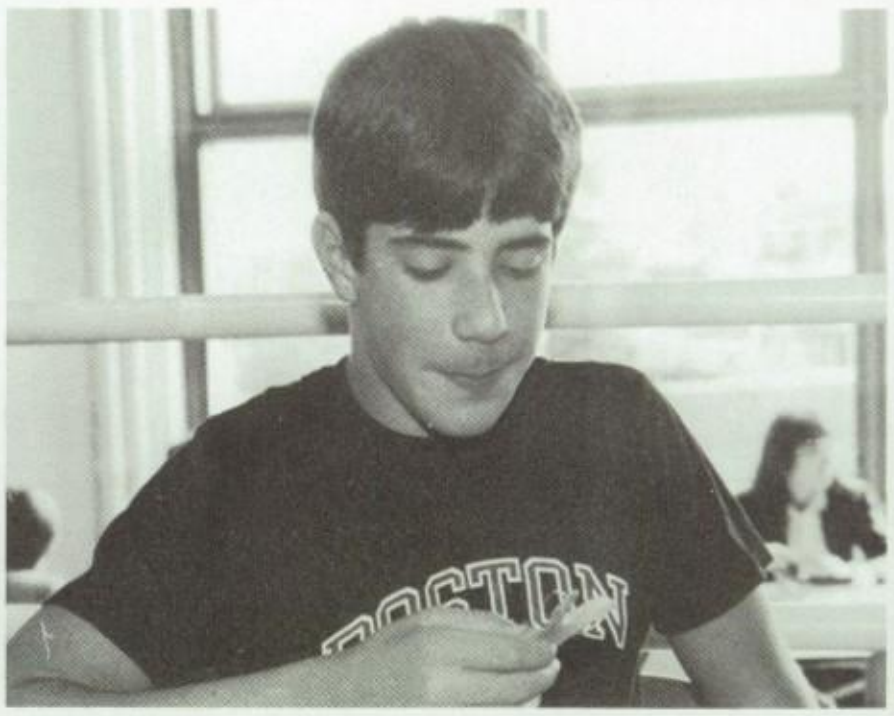

I'll bet he doesn't know my "roll the ball between his legs" maneuver!

Now class, let's learn about the important stuff, Heavy Metal!!

Learning to sew?? Three cheers for equal rights!

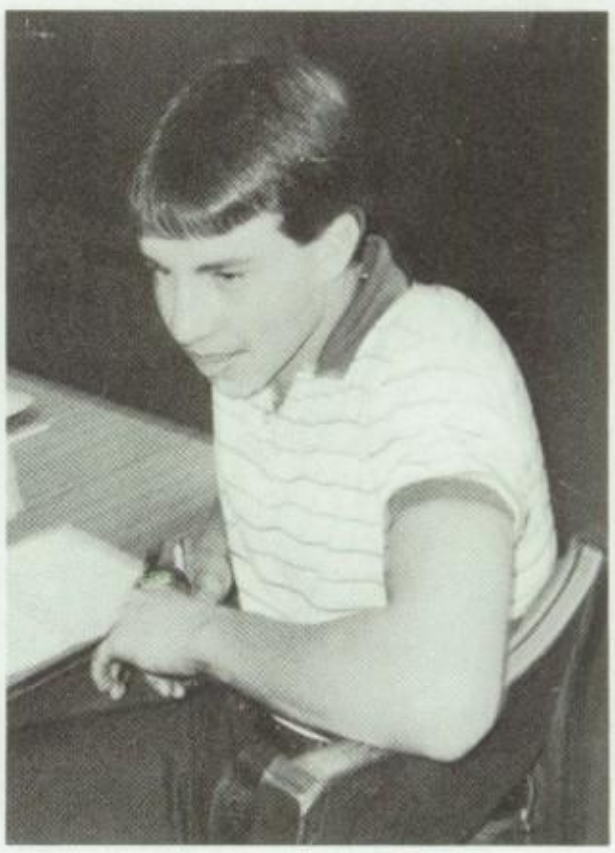

O.K. open the hangar, here comes the air plane.

Health Occupations Jackie Pelletier, Mrs. Pat Cyr, Tammy Smart, Lori Searls

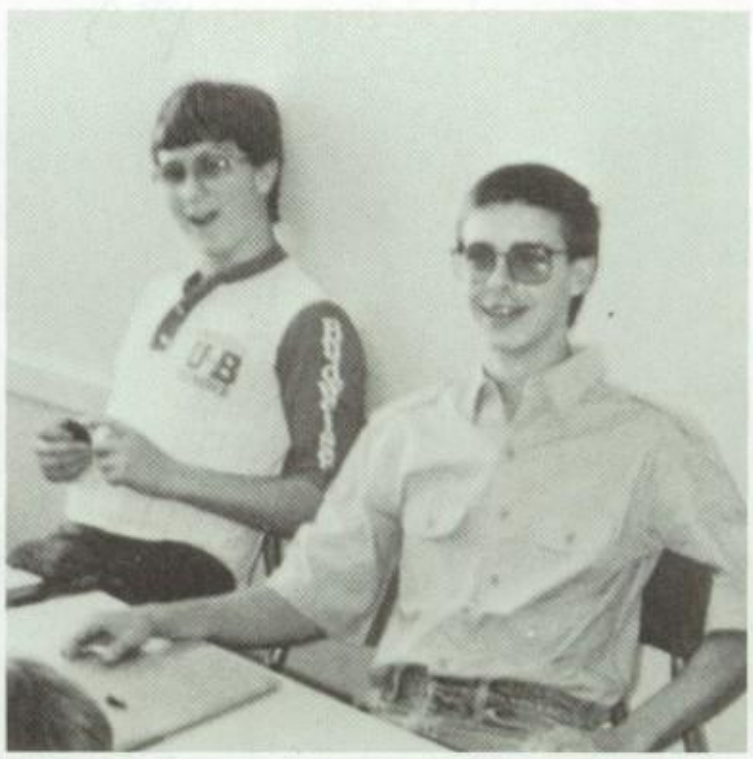

Sleep walking again Nicky??

So Miss Bell is it a date?

Milk, the mean man's drink!!

Watch me dazzle them with my smile!

And they said typing was easy!

Hurry Scott before Mr. McDonald sees us!!

Class Clown

I just can't seem to remember all this stuff.

Now come on Mike and Julie stop talking about last night!

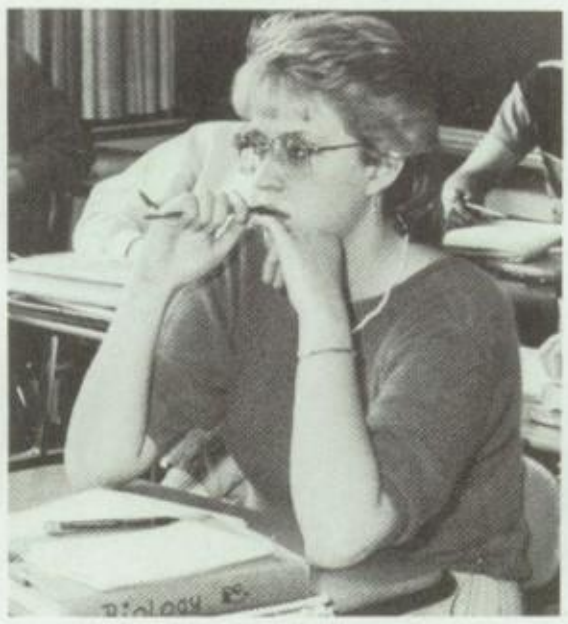

A couple more years then I'm out of here.

I just love getting my picture taken.

Hey, this stuff isn't so hard!

Day-dreamer Kara.

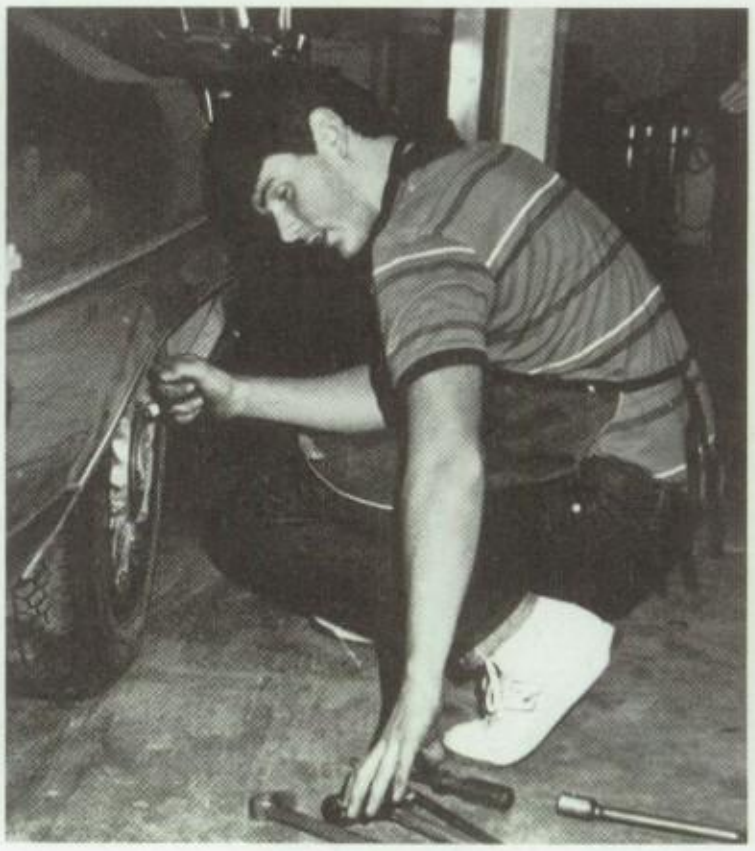

1 cup vanilla, 2 eggs.

"What in the world is going on" says Sharon.

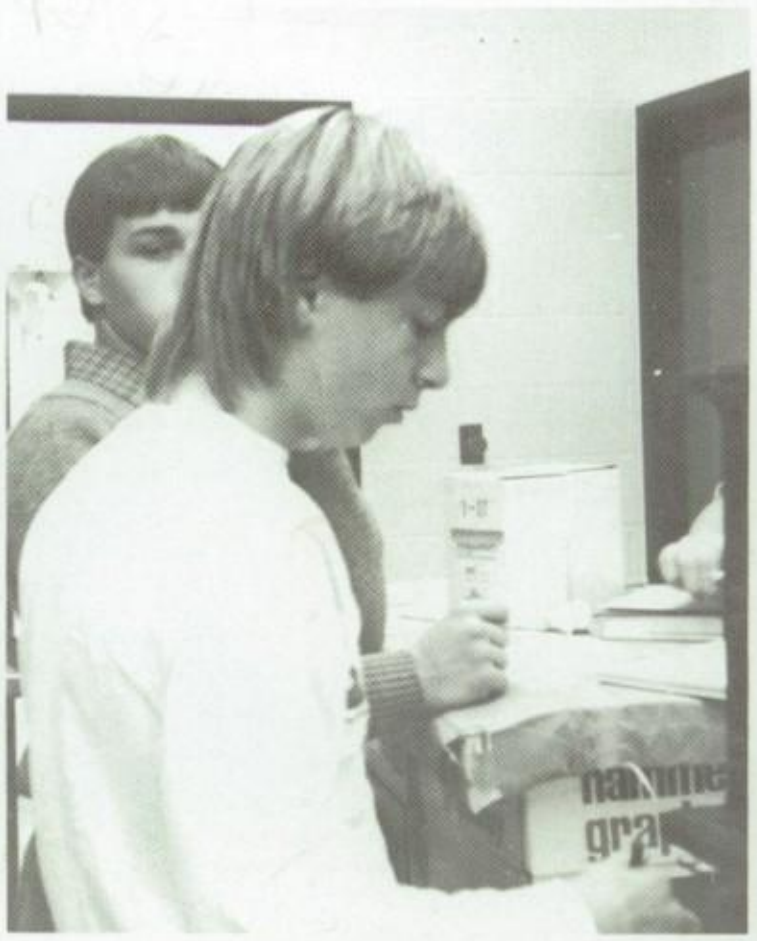

I'm gonna get you with the Kodak Disc . . .

Future "Midas Man!"

You guys aren't supposed to pose for the camera!!

Come on guys look awake.

A moment of meditation

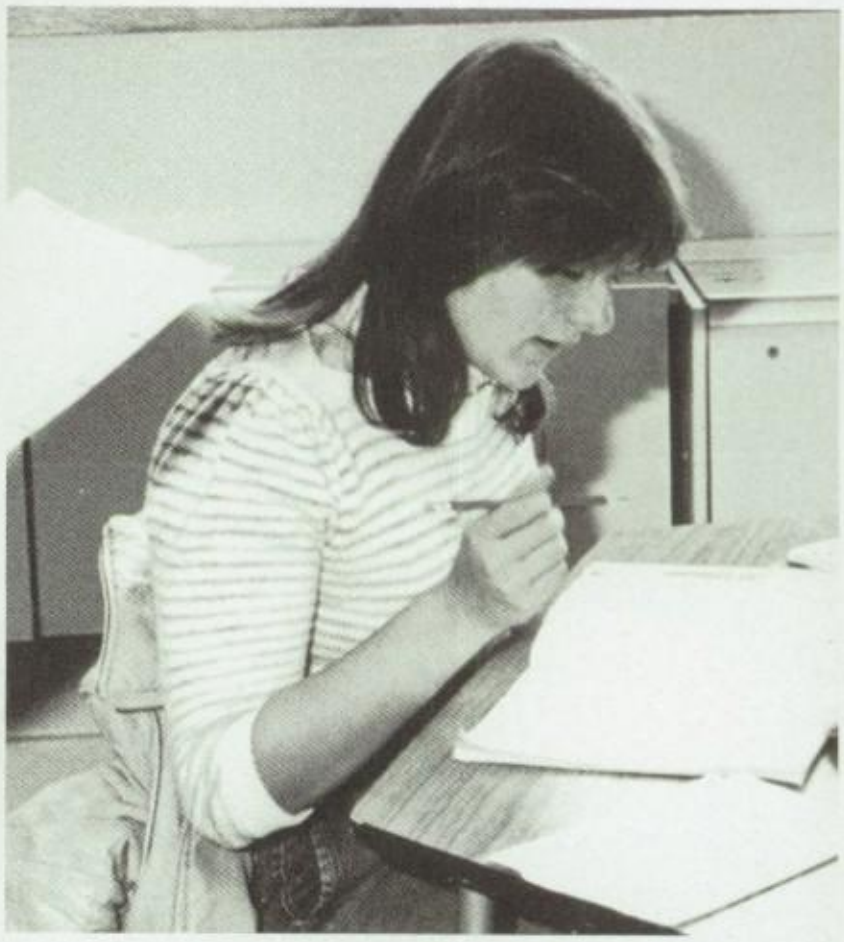

She works hard for her grades.

Don't bother me I'm doing a speed take.

Oh no, I got caught making prank phone calls.

If I have 2 apples and you have 4 apples . . .

I hope Kendra likes it.

Anthony, are you waiting for the food to walk in?

Val, it's only one more period 'till lunch.

3 Musketeers

Smile, you're on candid camera.

A rose between two thorns.

Pillsbury Pop-n-Fresh dough.

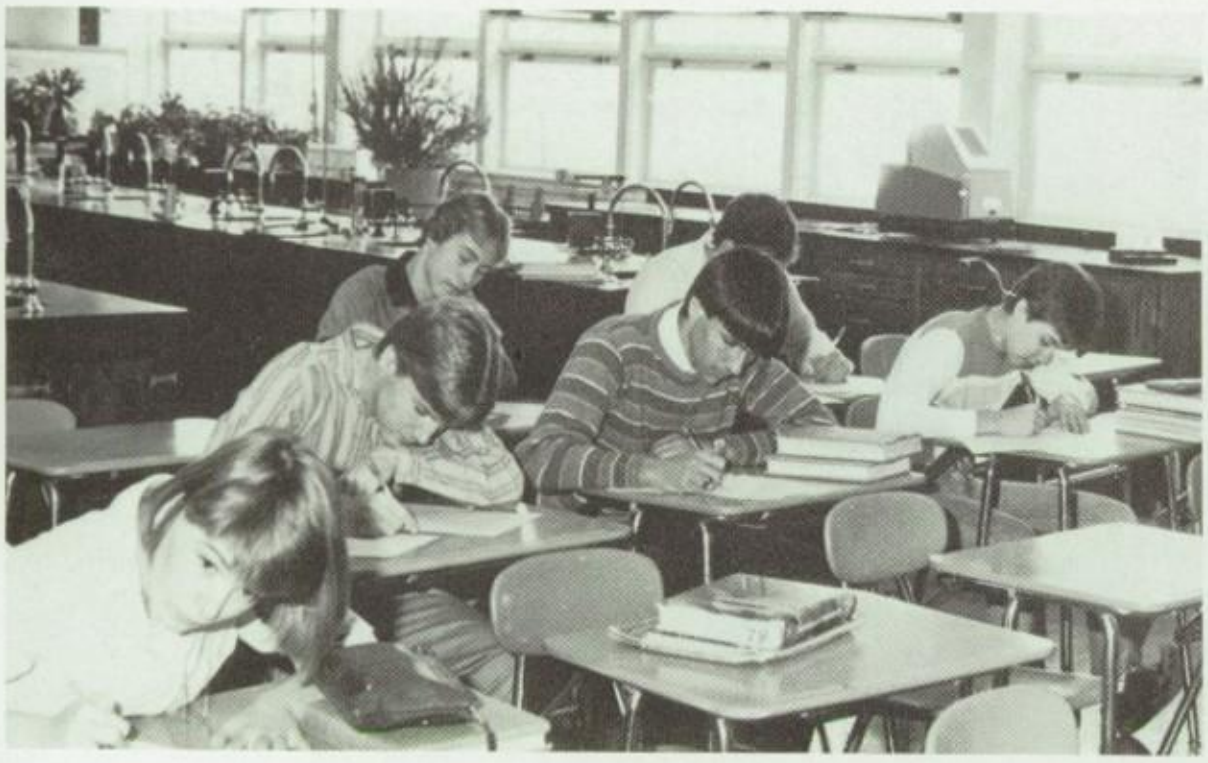

Yuck, they think I'm going to eat that!

I'm taller than Brenda is!

World's next Betty Crocker

Maria stop cheating!

This is my best side.

Don't you dare take my picture.

Easy does it.

Frozen milk again?!!

You did what with who?

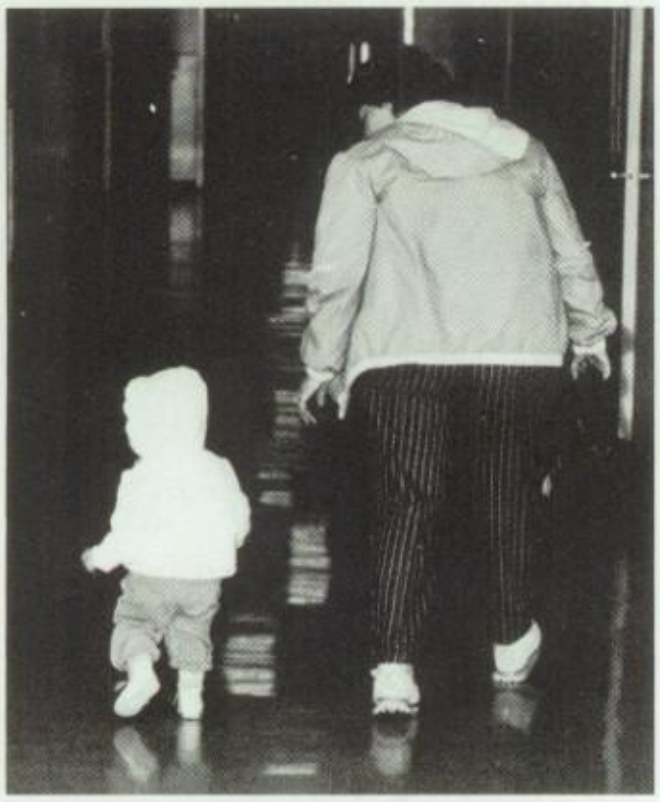

Would you give me my paper, I'm not done yet.

A face only a mother could love!

Would you stop taking my picture!!!

Quickly before the bell rings!

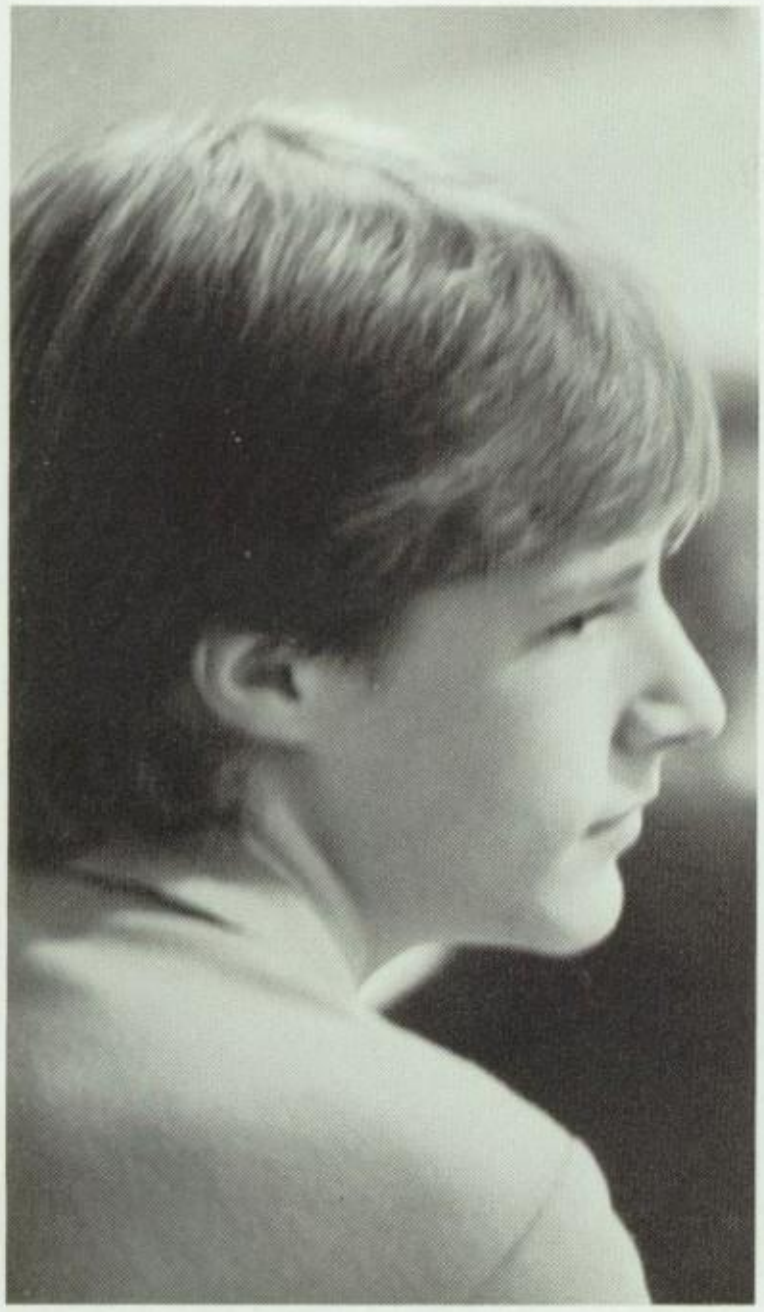

I can't believe I ate the whole thing.

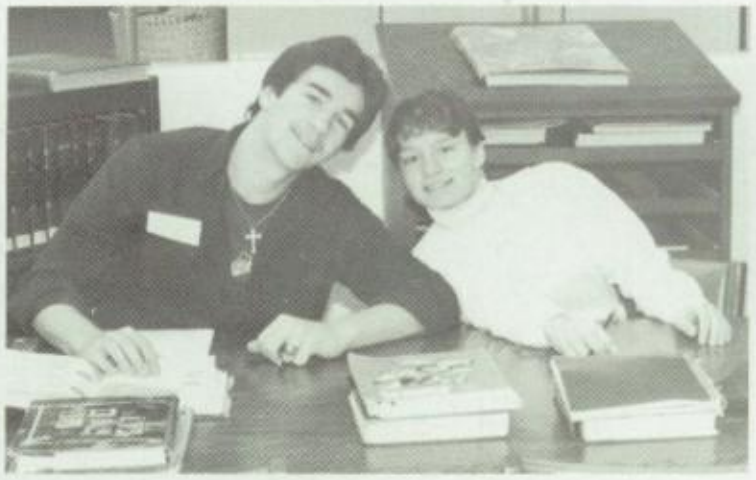

If looks could kill.

Keep your shirt on — you'll get some ketchup!

You got the cutest little baby face . . .

We're the bestest buddies.

The "chic" look

Donna the door stop.

Nice form

The incredible shrinking Debby.

Dear Santa, for X-Mas I want . . .

Who threw that spitball?

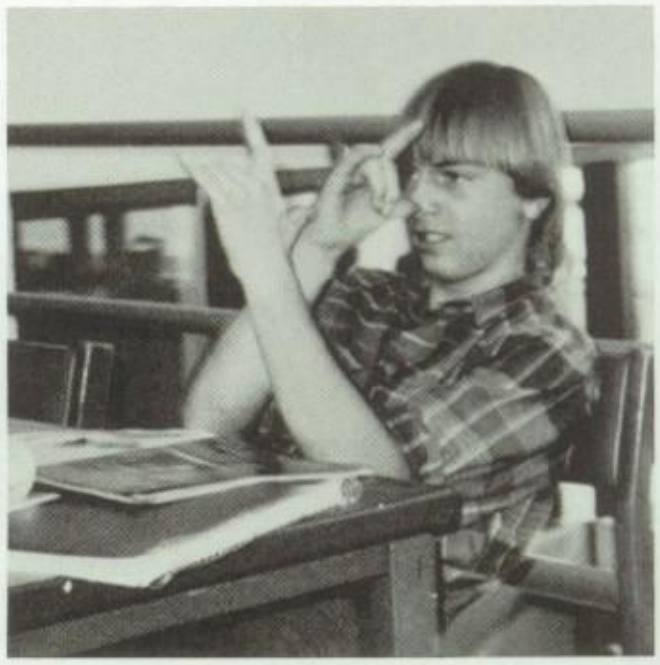

Wait a minute Mister, you lost me.

Look awake folks!

Weightless Yearbook room.

"Am I a Ninja or what?!"

"I can't believe you've gone out with an older woman."

Just a few more minutes, and another fake ID will be ready.

Maria doesn't know it but someone put a "kick me" sign on her back.

As president I promise . . .

I'm in love

Cute pose Sharon.

Watch these moves!

Oh Boy!!

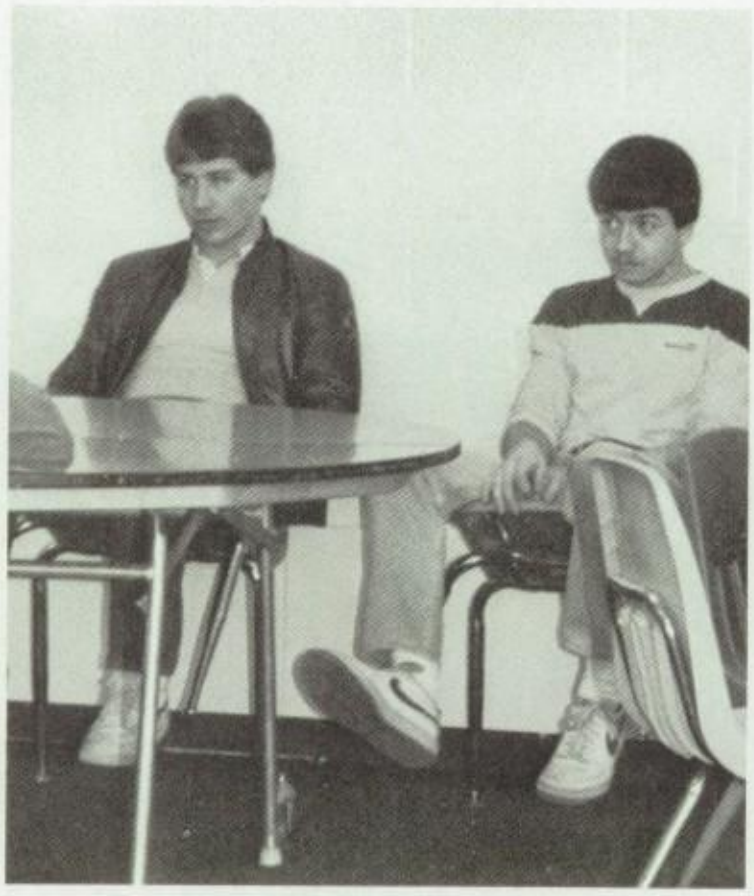

Intense concentration

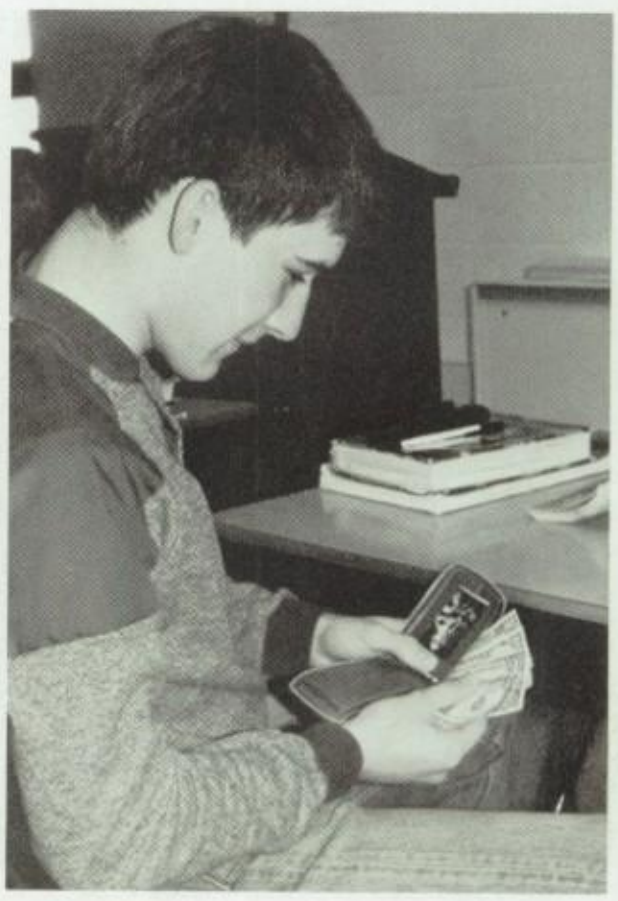

Gaylann, if you're lying, I'll spit.

I always wanted a purse!

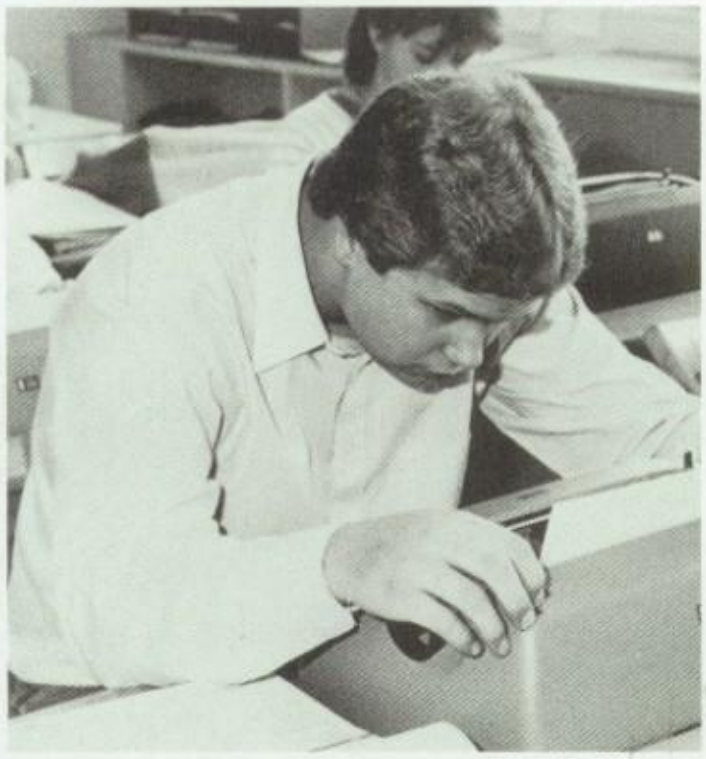

Don't look too enthused Boys.

Boy, taking Brian's wallet turned out to be profitable.

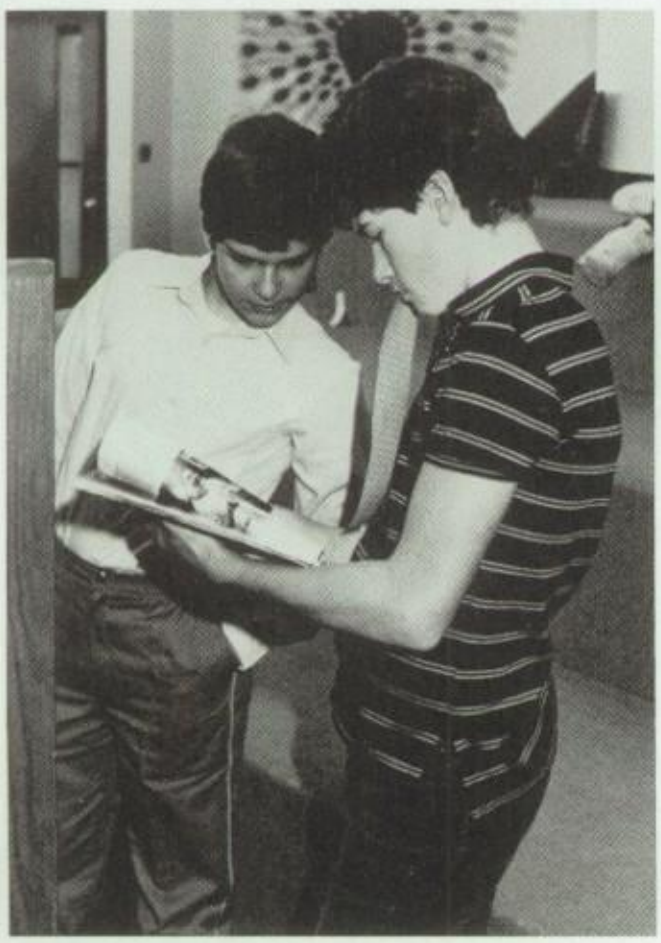

Oft! I hope Mr. McDonald never finds out I erased his entire program.

Ah no — another mistake?!

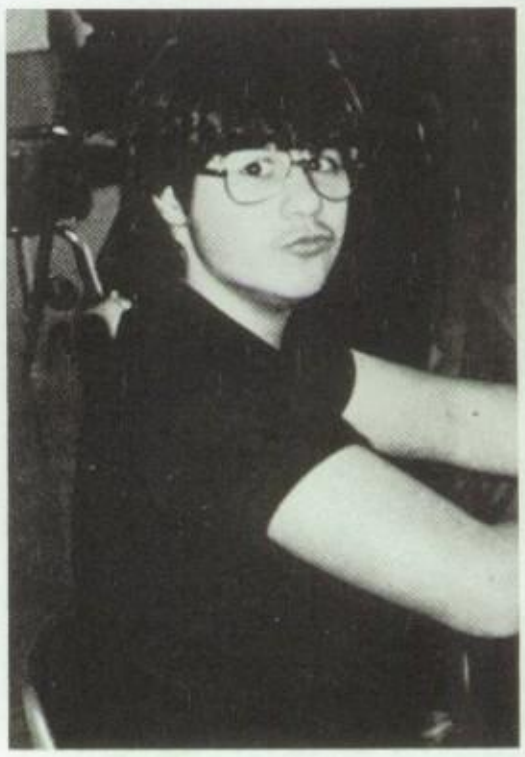

Mrs. Gross I didn't take art to learn how to bake a pie.

If Miss Bell only knew what we're looking at.

I wish Mr. Parent would stop giving us notes.

Hmm, I never get my way.

I still don't get it.

Norman, eat this!

THEME

Friends

A FRIEND IS . . .

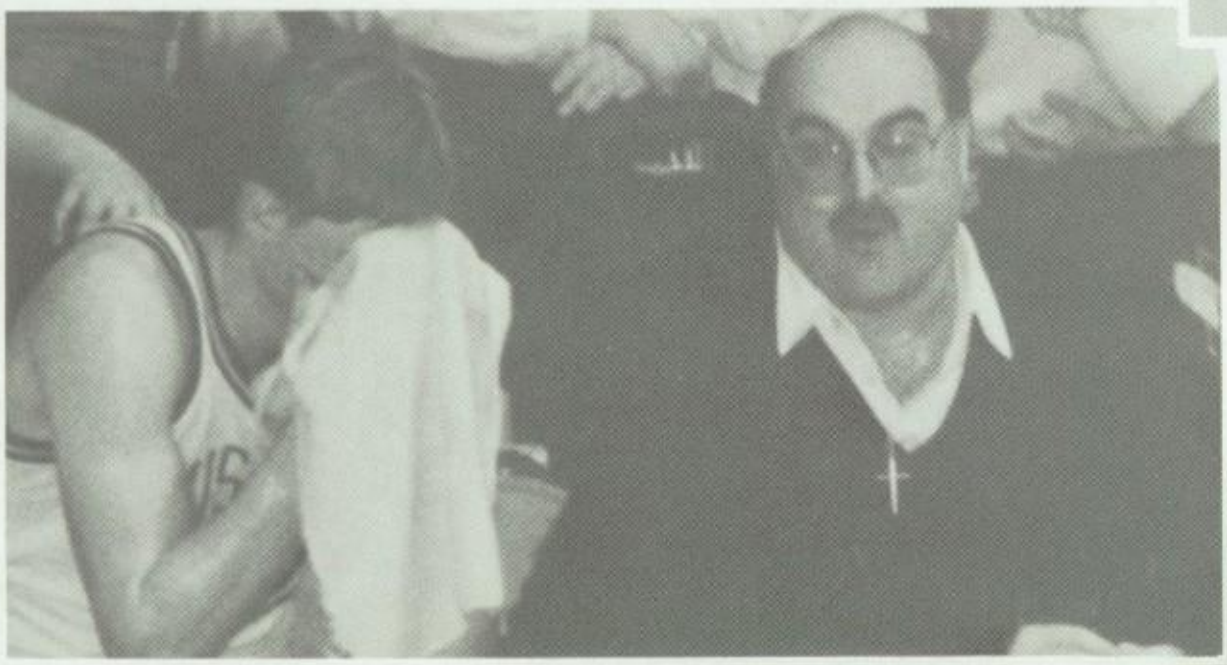

Someone with whom you can share your inner feelings . . .

knowing you won't be rejected.

Someone who gives freely . . .

without expectation or motivation.

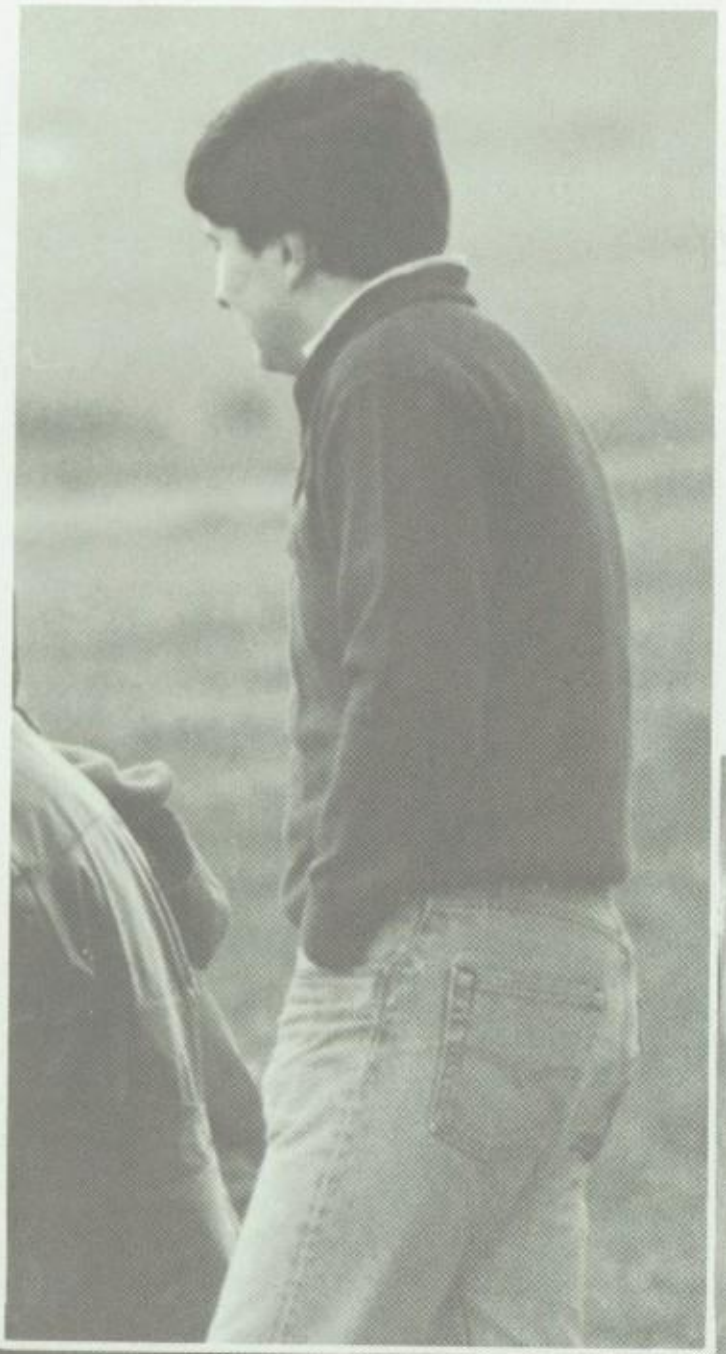

Someone who lets you be who you are . . .

if you want to change, it's up to you.

Someone who is there when you are hurting . . .

offering true tenderness.

Someone who sees your beauty . . .

your true beauty.

Someone who gives you space when it's needed . . .

without hesitation.

Someone who listens . . .

to what you're really saying.

Someone who will consider your different beliefs . . .

without judgment.

Someone who you always feel close to . . .

Someone who is comfortable to be with . . .

even when they're far away.

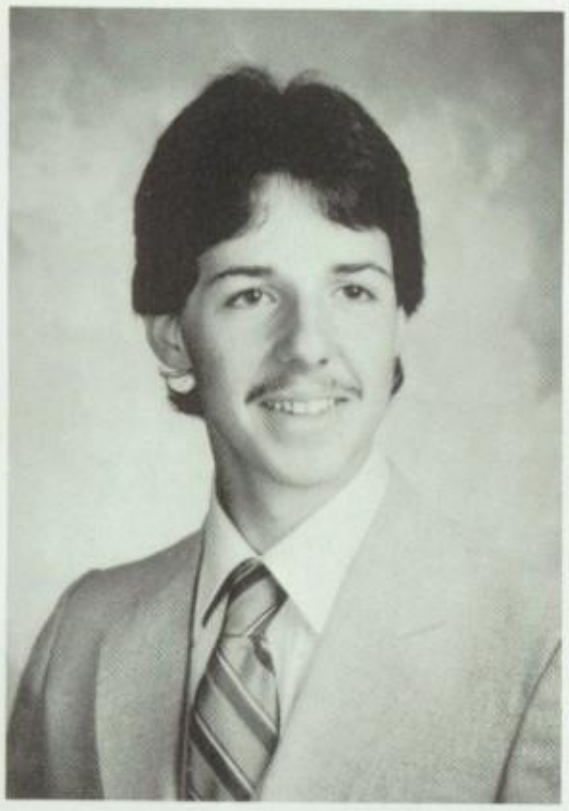

anytime, anywhere, doing anything.

A friend is a special gift . . .

to be cherished forever.

Crusaderettes at their best.

Richard Simmons taught me this move.

Come to Mama!

I can catch this one!

I know it's up there somewhere.

John you have to wait for the batter to hit the ball before you try to catch it.

I can't believe the crow stole the ball.

All these girls watching me make me selfconscious.

Danny, let me show you how it's done

. . . First, you look at the batter . . .

. . . then you look at the runner on first base . . .

. . . then you throw the ball.

1986 SENIOR PROM

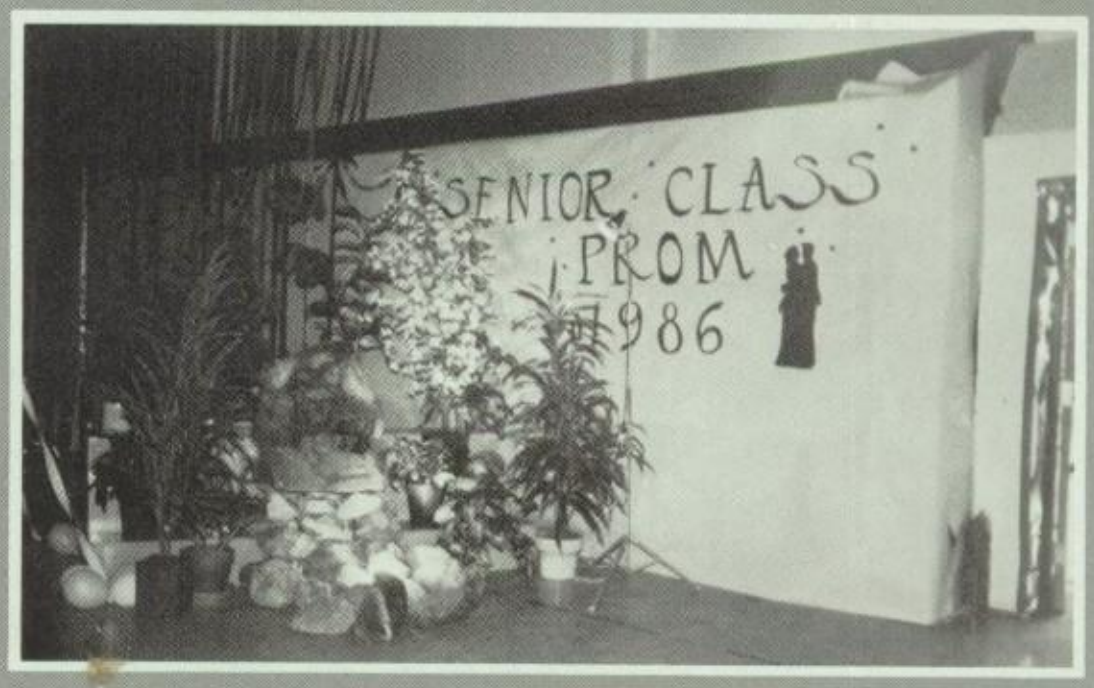

That has got to be the ugliest tree I've ever seen.

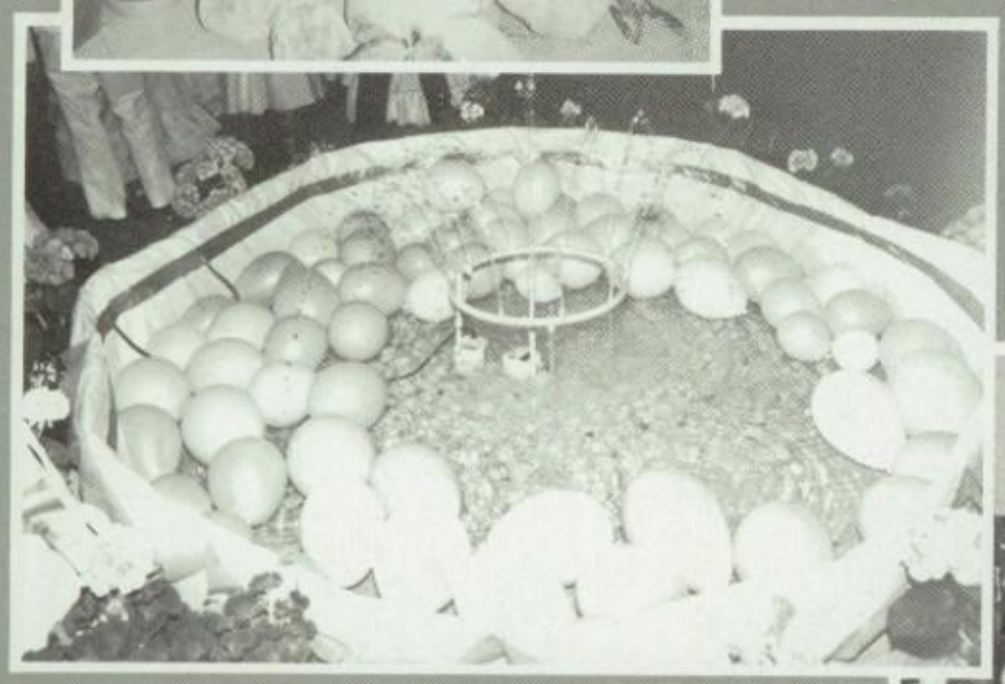

Will we ever be ready for this prom?

The fountain of Youth

A memorable setting.

Our Wishing Well.

GRADUATION 1986

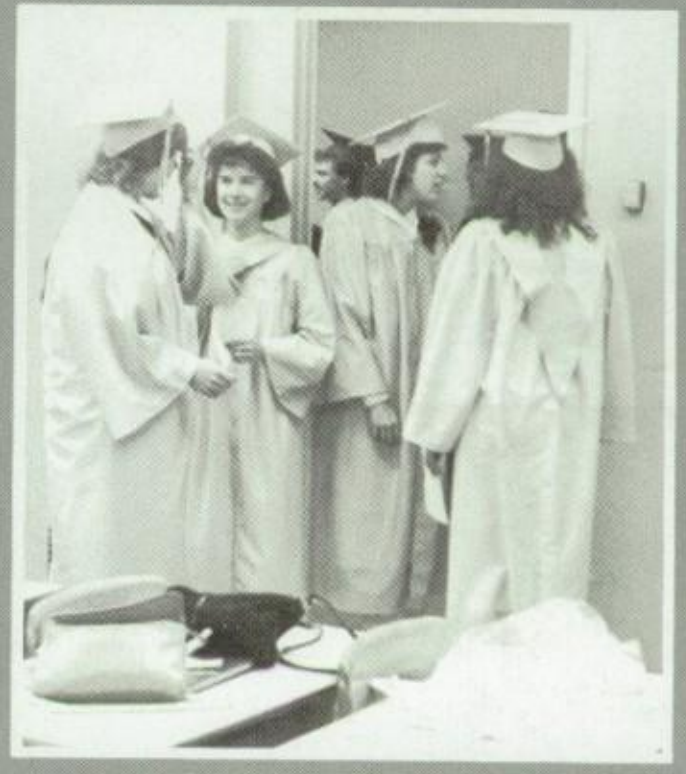

Oh no, I cracked the mirror, says Kelly.

I know I'm going to trip up those stairs when I go get my diploma.

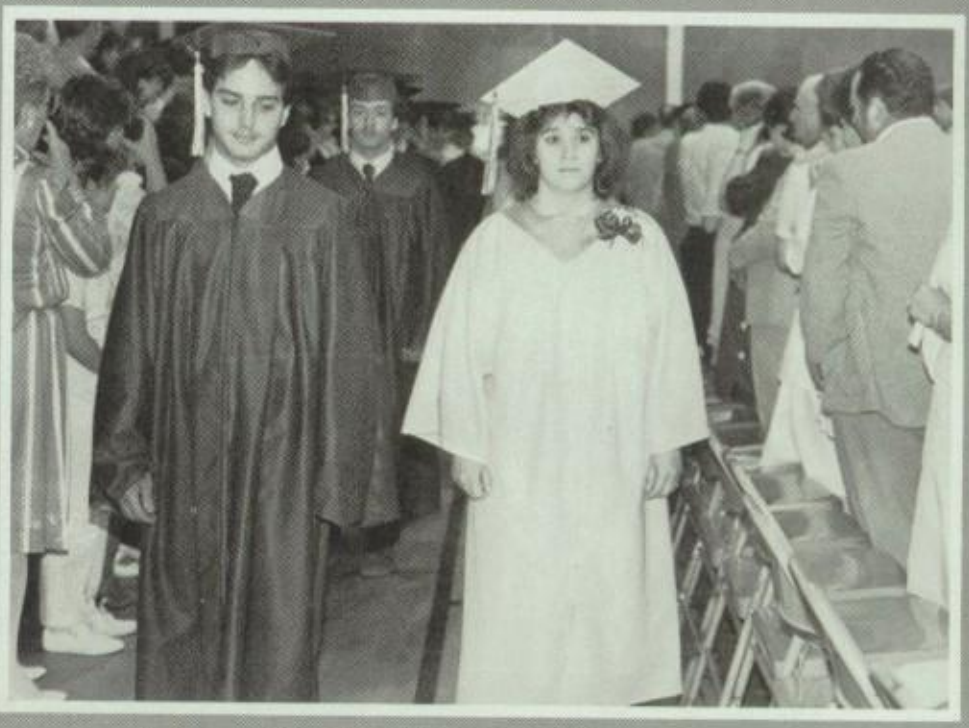

Amy, I'm so sick of hearing your speech, says Debbie.

The girls are ready to go.

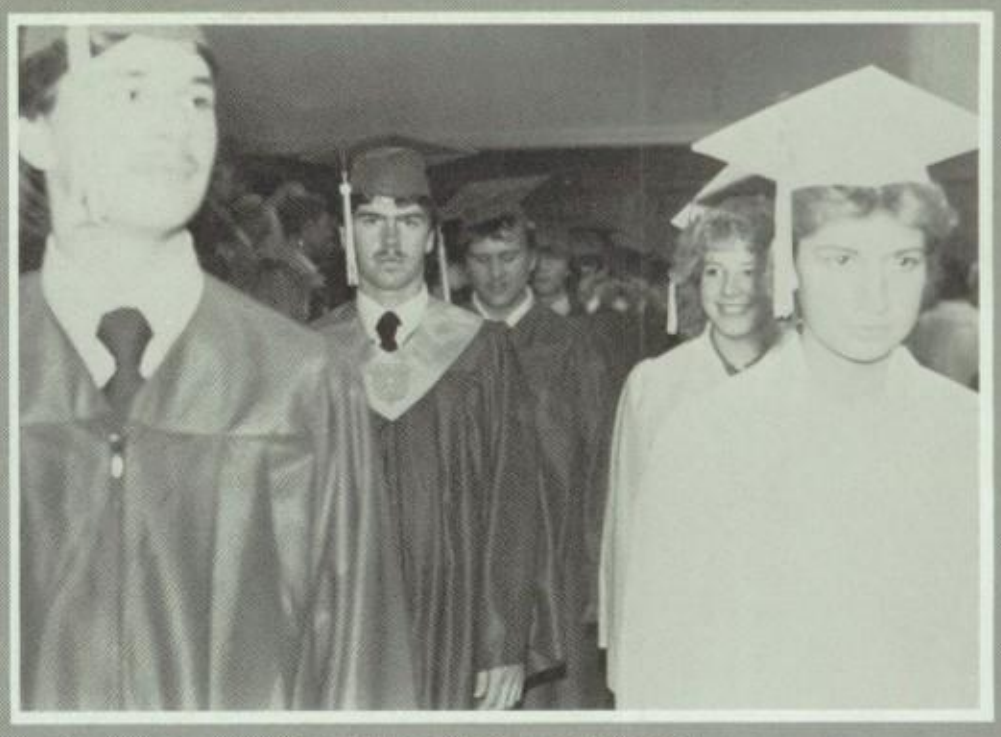

Hey Cynthia, we're in step.

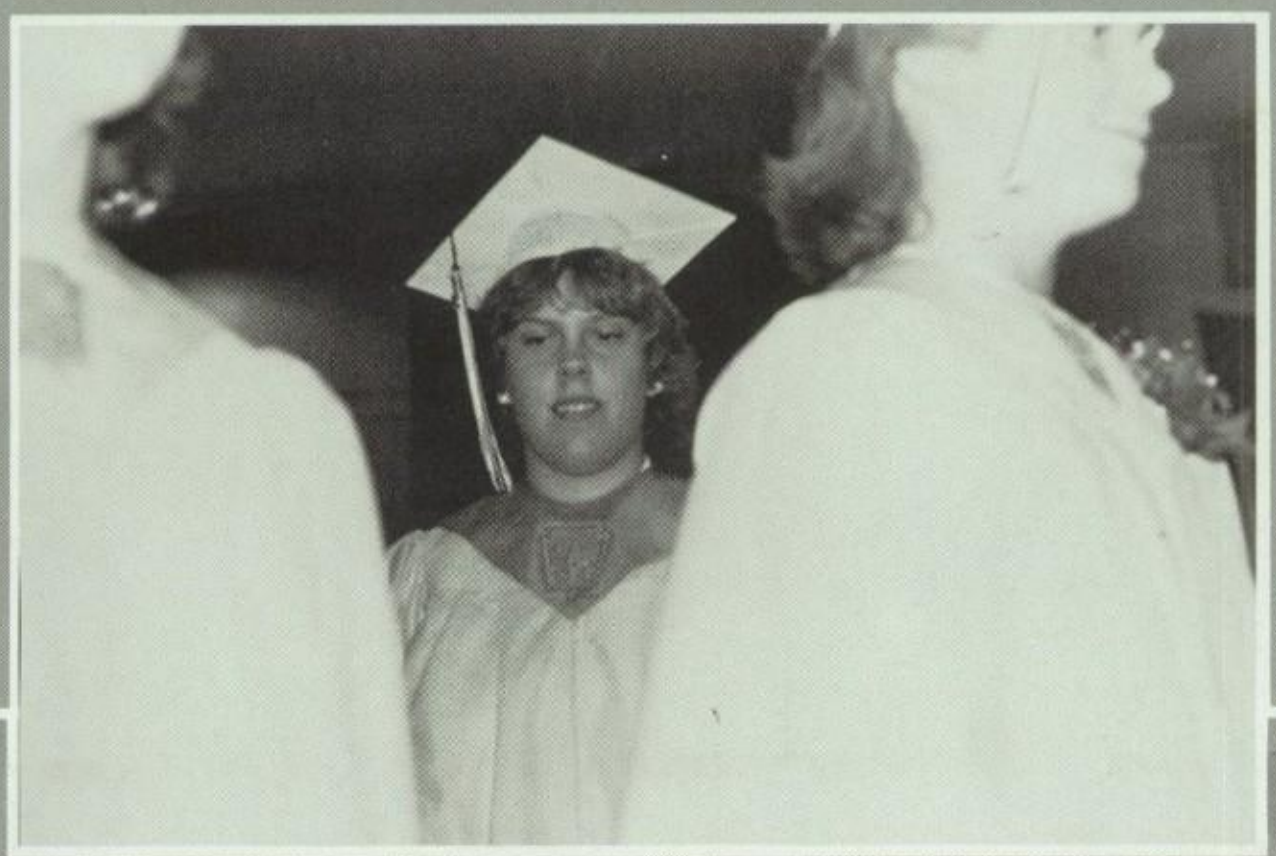

I'm so nervous, says Cindy.

I can't believe I'm really graduating, says Tina.

Graduation is serious business.

Class President, Amy Marcotte.

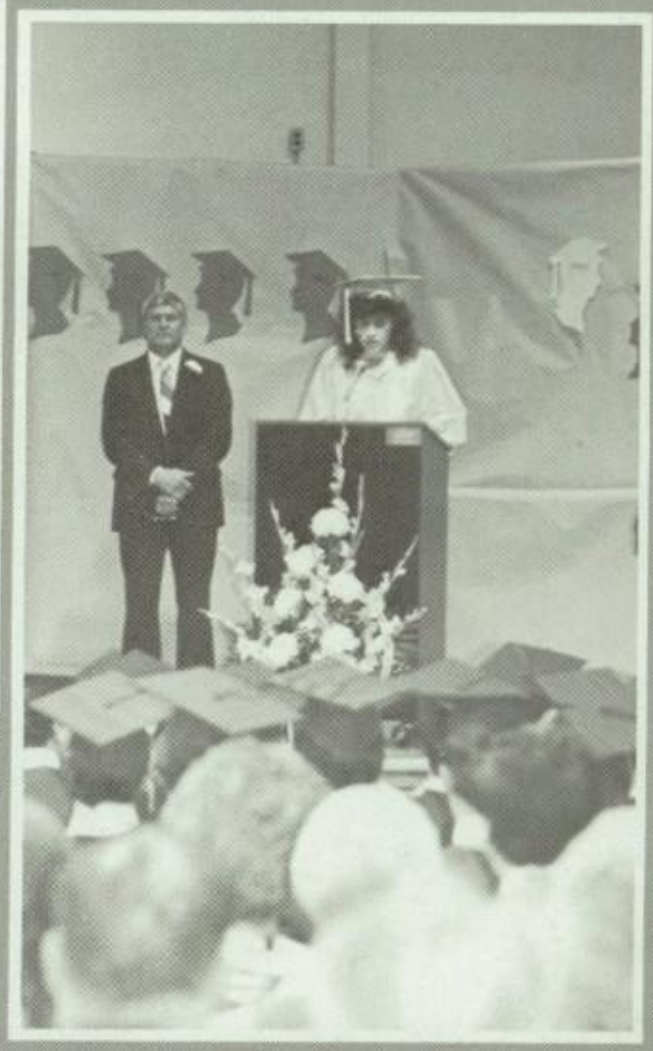

Valedictorian, Nancy St. Amand.

Salutatorian, Julie LaJoie.

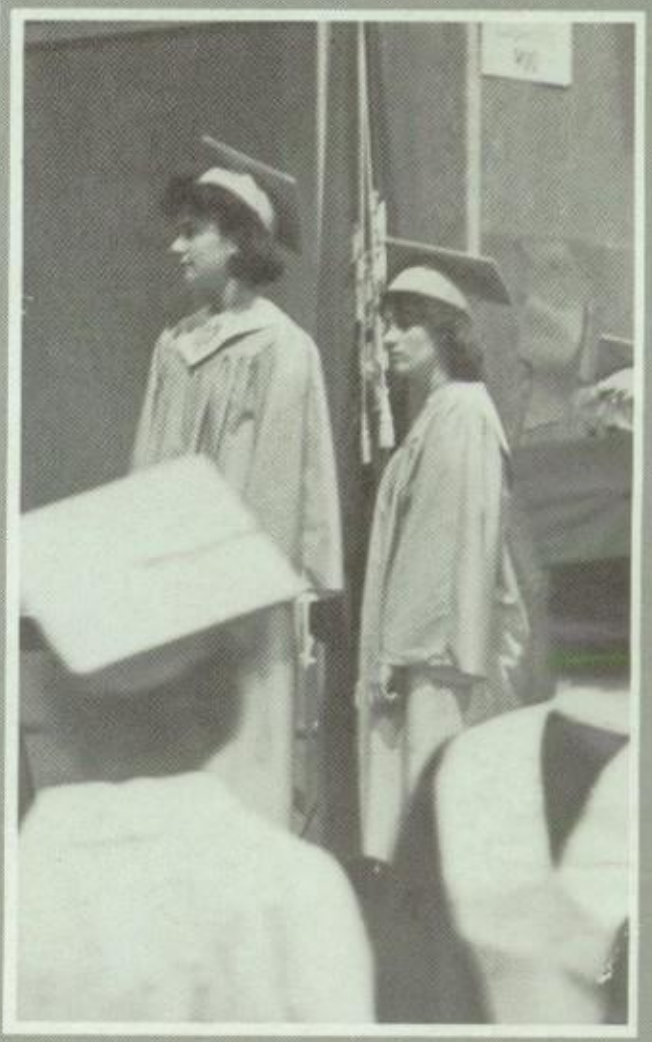

President Amy Marcotte and Principal Mr. Richard Cormier give out scholarships to deserving seniors.

Sue Ezzy, recipient of the French Award.

Seniors sing their class song, "That's What Friends Are For."

Seniors wait for their names to be called to receive their diploma.

Mark Cyr receives his diploma from Chairman of the Board, Mr. Harvey Beaulieu.
